

NEW PASTOR INSTALLED

Many Pastors Assist at the Public Exercises at the Union Church South Weymouth.

Rev. Ora A. Price, a talented young preacher of 30 years, was on Wednesday evening publicly installed as pastor of the Union Congregational church at South Weymouth.

The council that assembled previous to the installation was made up of pastors and delegates from churches in the following places: Braintree, Hingham, Cohasset, Quincy, Rockland, Weymouth Heights, South Weymouth, Weymouth Landing, North Weymouth, East Weymouth, Abington and South Braintree. Rev. Dr. Edward T. Ford of East Weymouth was elected moderator, and Rev. Charles Clark of North Weymouth, scribe.

The candidate in an hour's address gave an exhaustive statement of his life, experiences and religious work. The council then voted unanimously to proceed with the installation.

The sermon was by Rev. Dr. Daniel Evans of the Andover Theological Seminary, Cambridge. The music was by a chorus choir, Miss Helen F. Richards organist and Stephen F. Pratt soloist.

Rev. Edward T. Ford of East Weymouth delivered the invocation. Rev. Charles Clark of North Weymouth read the records, Rev. Fred A. Line of South Weymouth read the Scripture, Rev. John C. Prince of Rockland offered the installing prayer, Rev. Dr. E. T. Ford of East Weymouth gave the charge to the pastor, Rev. H. C. Alvord of South Weymouth the right hand of fellowship, Rev. Thomas C. Richards of Quincy the charge to the people and Rev. Mr. Price dismissed the assembly.

Rev. Ora A. Price was born at Logan, O., Oct. 23, 1886, graduating from the High School at Logan at the head of his class, and from Marietta College in Waterville, in 1907, as valedictorian. All this was accomplished only by the hardest work as he was obliged to earn the money to pay for his education.

In August, 1907, he was licensed to preach by the United Brethren Church of Christ at Logan, O. In 1911 he came East and served as a missionary in the Maverick Congregational Church, East Boston, and in the Fall of 1911 entered Andover Theological Seminary. During his college course he taught men's classes in the Old South Church, Boston, and during the Summer of 1913 did missionary work.

In December, 1913, Mr. Price married Miss Jennie Whitcraft of Logan, O., a former schoolmate. In that same month and year Mr. Price accepted a call to the Trinitarian Congregational Church of West Gloucester, remaining until accepting a call to the South Weymouth Church in June, 1915.

Selectmen's Meeting.

At the meeting of the selectmen this week it was voted to make contracts for the building of tar concrete sidewalks at Weymouth Landing and North Weymouth. Contracts were awarded to W. F. Armstrong of Brighton, whose work last year was satisfactory. About 1000 feet will be built in Ward 1 and 1000 feet in Ward 3.

A hearing was ordered on the petition of the Bay State Street Railway for relocations, to be held Oct. 20.

A complaint was received from R. G. Kilduff that a water main had burst on Shore drive and caused damage to the street which should be repaired. The selectmen referred him to the Water board.

A letter from the Commissioner of Public Records authorized the destroying of certain State documents.

The usual number of applications for State Aid and other relief were received.

New Street Railway Fare.

The Public Service Commission has approved a revision of fares and transfer privileges on certain of the routes of the Bay State St. Ry. Co., to become effective October 9. To avoid confusion, it is made well for the public to familiarize itself with the changes in this vicinity.

Existing cash, ticket or transfer tickets will not be changed. But on certain of the company's lines the unit of fare in those limits becomes 6 cents where it is now 5 cents. Many of the routes of the system are not affected at all.

On routes where revision is made, it has become necessary to make the following: A special form of transfer, to cost 1 cent; an extension check, to cost 1 cent; a 5 cent ticket.

School children may still ride for half the regular fare. But in some cases the cash fare becomes 6 cents, and a scholar's ticket must be collected by the conductor.

Following are the changes to be made in this vicinity:

On the Quincy-East Weymouth route, transfer privileges will be modified as follows:

On trips to East Weymouth, all transfers issued to passengers boarding within the town limits of Weymouth for use at Thomas' Corner to Back River Square, or for use at Central Square, or for use at Central Square, will be of a special form and will cost 1 cent.

On trips to Quincy, transfers issued to passengers boarding within Weymouth town limits for use at Thomas' Corner to Back River Square, or for use at Central Square, will be of a special form and will cost 1 cent.

On the Rockland-Braintree route, through fare will be as follows: Braintree depot to Columbian Square, South Weymouth, 6 cents; from Columbian Square to Rockland depot, 6 cents. Returning the through fare will be the same.

The local fare between the Braintree depot and the Weymouth depot will be 6 cents.

On the East Weymouth-Hingham route, the through fare between Jackson Square, East Weymouth, and Hingham Square, will be 6 cents.

On the East Weymouth-South Weymouth route, the through fare between Jackson Square, East Weymouth, and the South Weymouth depot, will be 6 cents.

On the Quincy-Weymouth Landing route, transfer privileges will be modified to this extent:

On trips to Weymouth Landing, all transfers issued to passengers boarding between the Quincy-Braintree line and Weymouth Landing for use at Weymouth Landing to Braintree town limits, or to Columbian Square, South Weymouth, or to Jackson Square, East Weymouth, will be of a special form and will cost 1 cent.

On the East Weymouth-Braintree route, the through fare between the Braintree depot and Jackson Square, East Weymouth, will be 6 cents.

Union Literary Circle.

The Union Literary Circle of Weymouth and Braintree opens its 33d season at the home of Mrs. Romans, Summer street, Weymouth, next Tuesday evening, October 10th, with of program of "Vacation Stories" and a social hour. All members are invited to come and make this the beginning of a series of helpful and interesting evenings for the winter season.

The circle meets on the 2d and 4th Tuesday evenings of the month and the committee have arranged several interesting programs for the season, including studies in African History, the early history of the Pilgrims, readings of the "Tragedy of Douglas" and also some of Longfellow's New England tragedies and Shakespeare's "King John". With other evenings of music and special features the program promises many pleasant as well as instructive meetings for the course.

The circle will be glad to welcome any who wish to become members and avail themselves of the opportunity to study and enjoy the privileges of the program or this season.

Linen Shower.

A linen shower in honor Miss Mary A. Carolan, who for several years assisted superintendent of nurses at the Carney Hospital, was given by the class of 1914 at the home of Mary E. Smith 325 Commercial street, Thursday evening, Sept. 28. The house was very prettily decorated with the class colors and autumn leaves.

After the show of linen there were vocal selections by two of the nurses and Miss Mary O'Connell of Rockland. Dancing was enjoyed and the music was furnished by Nagel's orchestra. Many of the doctors who graduated with the young ladies were present.

A dainty lunch was served at 11 o'clock, and many games were played.

NEW FIRE AUTO.

Its Arrival Celebrated by a Supper at Engine Hall.

The new $4,500 auto combination for the local fire department arrived Tuesday and has been placed in the Central fire station in charge of Chauffeur J. Ralph Bacon. The firemen celebrated the event with a supper at engine hall Tuesday evening. Ex-District Chief Wallace H. Bicknell presided. There was music and speechmaking. The invited guests included the chief and four district chiefs of the Weymouth fire department, members of the board of selectmen, ex-Chief Engineer Charles E. Bicknell, Chief Billings of Quincy, Chief Tenney of Braintree, Chief Cushing of Hingham, Capt. Ralph Laurie of Hingham and Harry Bicknell of this town; also ex-Chief J. R. Walsh and ex-District Chiefs Francis M. Brown, Wallace H. Bicknell and Charles H. Baker, and Police Inspector Thomas Fitzgerald. A life-sized picture of ex-Chief Wallace H. Bicknell was presented by the firemen to be hung in the hall of the fire station.

Weymouth Choral Society.

The society is beginning its fifth year, and it may not be an inopportune time to review what we really have accomplished. We have given to Weymouth and South Weymouth with fairly good success eight concerts. We seem to have become firmly established as a choral society and have risen to an enviable position in the musical circles of the town.

The one drawback to our being a real power is our lack of financial success. In an effort to place the society on a basis where it will have in its treasury money enough to pay all bills at the close of the season, without calling on friends for extra contributions, it has been decided to advance the membership fee to $8.00.

The first concert of the coming season will be in Fogg's Opera House in January. Excerpts from the Oratorios, Creation, Elijah, The Messiah and Stabat Mater will be given. It has been made possible to engage for the first concert, Mr. Lambert Murphy, tenor soloist, one of the leading oratorio singers of the country, formerly of the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York, and which alone should guarantee the society success for its winter's program.

The committee feel that they will have the support of every present member and an increased number of new members. The first meeting will be a social on Monday, October 9, in Clapp Memorial building at 7.30 p. m.

Masonic Visitation.

Right Worshipful District Deputy Grand Master Charles G. Jordan of Braintree is making his annual official visit to the lodges in the 26th district, all the communications being very largely attended. He was at Randolph last week; at Wollaston on Tuesday evening, and at Quincy on Thursday evening, accompanied by a large suite from Orphan Hope, Delta and other lodges. From Weymouth were Wor. Stanley T. Torrey, Wor. Frank A. Torrey, Wor. Gardner R. P. Barker, and others. From Delta, Wor. W. E. Guttererson, Wor. E. F. Sterling, Henry D. Higgins and others.

Next Thursday he will visit Orphan Hope lodge, and Delta lodge later.

LIEUT. GOVERNOR HERE

Guest and Speaker at Banquet of the Men's Club at Clapp Memorial Association

Every seat provided, and a few extra ones, were occupied at the banquet which opened the season of the Men's Club of Clapp Memorial Association on Wednesday evening. The attendance exceeded expectation. When the members and guests arrived between 6 and 6.30 they found a cheerful fire in the fireplace and were cordially received by the officers. The guest of honor, Calvin Coolidge of Northampton, the lieutenant governor of Massachusetts, was among the early arrivals with H. R. Drinkwater.

As the members proceeded to the banquet hall, they were introduced individually by President W. C. Earle to the Lieutenant Governor on the first landing of the stairway. A head table and three long tables were necessary to accommodate all. Blessing was asked by B. B. Sylvester. The committee served a hot roast beef, the meat being carved on the table. The menu included baked potatoes, cabbage salad, lima beans, rolls, cocoa and ice cream, all well cooked and well served.

President Earle briefly welcomed the members and guests and immediately introduced the speaker of the evening.

LIEUT. GOV. COOLIDGE

It was a pleasure to come to Weymouth because of its historical associations, its industries and because of his association with Weymouth men who had been sent to the State House. Referring to the tremendous expansion of late in science and arts, and in human knowledge, he said there had been a sobering during the past year because of the world's greatest catastrophe now taking place in Europe. It was apparent that we still need safeguards in our constitution, and many have been prepared. The power to develop had also been used for destruction. We must have time for thought and study and education before legislation is rushed through the legislature or Congress. And it is of utmost importance that the people shall have the utmost confidence in the courts. People must make personal sacrifices and become interested in good government. We need the safe-guards of our forefathers. They point the way onward and upwards to brighter days.

At the suggestion of President Earle,

—Mrs. Elizabeth A. Torrey, the widow of Prescott S. Torrey, passed away on Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Emma Ford of 768 Main street, in her 73rd year. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

FOURTEEN BRIDESMAIDS.

Unusually Large Bridal Party at the Varney-Blake Wedding.

Miss Alice Laurence Blake of North
 Weymouth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
 William Henry Blake, was married
 Saturday evening to George Fenton
 Varney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fenton
 W. Varney of Egypt, Mass.

The wedding was at 7.30 o'clock at 32 Centre street, East Weymouth.
 Rev. Rufus H. Dix, a cousin of the bride, performed the ceremony. Rev.
 Mr. Dix is pastor of the Universalist church of Newtonville, formerly of the Universalist church of North Weymouth. The double ring service was used.

The bride wore a white embroidered silk chiffon, over chiffon taffeta, with a fish tail train, and carried white roses. She wore a tulle veil caught up with tiny asters.

The bride's sister, Ruth Arnold Blake, of Wollaston, was the maid of honor. She wore pink chiffon over pink satin brocade and carried pink roses.

The best man was Chester Ma Dan, of East Weymouth an intimate friend of the groom.

There were 14 bridesmaids; Miss Margaret Dingwall, Miss Marion Fisher, Miss Lillian Fisher, Miss Mary Ford, Miss Alice Ford, Miss Ruth Thayer, Miss Venus Thayer, Miss Minnie Thayer, Miss Marion White, Miss Mabel Sampson, Miss Louisa Kittrodge, and Miss Ina Leinon of North Weymouth, Miss Vira Brown of Newtonville and Miss Melissa Chase of East Weymouth.

The ushers were E. Bartlett Spooner of Quincy, Edwin Brown of Newtonville, John and Charles Holmes of East Weymouth.

The fourteen bridesmaids made a most charming group. They were gowned in rainbow colors and carried autumn leaves. They preceded the wedding party to the reception hall where they formed an aisle through which the ushers, groom and best man passed followed by the maid of honor and bride. After the bridal party reached the floral arch the bridesmaids came forward and formed a semi-circle around the party. The wedding march was played by Miss Bertha Estes of North Weymouth.

Following the ceremony there was a reception from 8 to 9.30, during which an orchestra rendered pleasing selection, the bridal party being assisted in receiving by the maid of honor and best man.

The house was very prettily decorated with flowers, autumn foliage and ferns, and arch of foliage with rose lights giving the appearance of small roses.

The wedding trip is to be to New York via Albany and the Hudson River, after which they will be at home to their friends at Birchbrow avenue North Weymouth, after Dec. 1. Mr. and Mrs. Varney received many beautiful and useful gifts including cut glass, linen silver and gold pieces.

Both the bride and groom are very popular among both young and old,
 in Egypt as well as North Weymouth.

K. of C. Men in Crash.

While returning from a day's outing at Green Harbor a limousine filled with members of the Weymouth council K. of C. crashed into a touring car at Fort Hill street demolishing that machine and turning over the limousine.

In the touring car were Harry B.
 Merritt of Norwell, his wife, their 6 year old twins and a baby, all were thrown out and one of the little girls sustained a bad gash in her head and had several ribs strained.
 The limousine was owned by George W. Young of East Weymouth and was driven by Ralph Young.

The limousine was coming down the Heywood hill, and had reached as far as the Heywood place when the Merritt family machine came out of the yard. The two machines came together with a crash the limousine overturning. The man in the limousine crawled out through the shattered windows.

Several of the men sustained strained backs when they were pinned beneath the roof of the car which was crushed in.

Those in the limousine were Edward Quinlan, Bart Coughlan, Ambrose Boyle, Patrick Kearns, John Upton and Bernard Mitchell.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarhal deafness,
 and that is by a constitutional remedy.
 Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube
 restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars

TRAVEL TALK.

Weymouth Man Writes of a Day in Sight of Pike's Peak.

A day is all too short a time in which to see all the points of interest in the neighborhood of Colorado Springs. There were four things I particularly wished to do. First, to make the ascent of Pike's Peak by the cog rail road; second, to take the Crystal Park auto trip up Mt.
 Cheyenne; third, to explore the cave of the winds; and fourth, to view the wonders of the Garden of the Gods.
 If I took the first I had time for but two of the others, and perhaps but one of them. Notwithstanding the fact that the Peak is four thousand feet higher than any point I had yet attained, I concluded to leave that out and undertake the other three.

The Crystal Park drive is up a winding auto road which has recently been built at great expense up the side of the mountain. High-power automobiles made for carrying seven or eight passengers are used.

We started about half past 8 a. m.
 There were in the party two young ladies from Boston. These were the first people from Boston or vicinity whom I had met since leaving home, and it almost seemed like meeting next-door neighbors. About five miles of level road was covered before we began to make the up grade, which for the first two or three miles is comparatively moderate and the serious work of the ascent begins. Unlike the cog road up Pike's Peak, which for the most part runs in nearly a straight course; or at least, so seems from the points where it was visible to us at a distance of about two miles; this is a succession of twists and turns.

The engineering problems encountered in its construction necessitated the finding or making of a grade which could be negotiated by an automobile and long detours had in some places to be made to effect a moderate rise. At one place the road made what is called a double bow knot, each of the bows extending about a quarter mile, and the rise gained by these four loops was, I should judge, not more than twenty-five feet. At some places we encountered a down grade for a considerable distance and then another upward climb would begin.

On some sections we could see below us the road over which we had passed a few minutes before, running parallel to the part upon which we were then travelling. The general trend was ever upward, until at length we gain a height of ten thousand feet above sea level, and four thousand feet above the town of Maniitou which is far below us, and so near the mountain that it almost seemed as though one could throw a stone and have it fall into the town. We passed the point high up the mountain where, as our guide informed us, once stood the cabin—now destroyed by fire—where Richard Harding Davis did much of his writing for two or three years while making his heroic fight against the fell disease which finally resulted in his death.

One would gladly linger in the pure air of the mountain top, but this might not be, and after a stay of fifteen or twenty minutes we took our downward course, arriving in Manitou about the noon hour. We here visited the soda spring and drank of the water prepared in nature's laboratory and which is served free to all comers.

After lunch we started to explore the Cave of the Winds. The entrance of the cave is reached by either of two routes. A new automobile road has recently been completed which gives a good view of the mountains and the surrounding plain. We took the old road, or Temple Drive as it is commonly called; which runs most of the way through Williams' Canyon, a narrow defile with high walls towering nearly perpendicular on either side. In some places the passageway is so narrow as to barely permit of two teams passing. Had we not been fresh from the experience of passing through the much deeper and more highly colored canyons through the Rocky mountains, this would have made more impression on us than it did. The distance from Manitou to the cave is about

..A.. "Life Time" Investment for Your Home

There is one investment related to food—the health and happiness of the family—which every woman, every wife and every mother is deeply interested in.

Cooking is woman's prerogative and pride. When we think of "Mother" we associate her with the good things she cooked for our health and strength.

Crawford Ranges

have been linked to the "goodies" that are memories and events in 100,000 families.

Mother cooked with a Crawford and her mother before her. Today the Crawford Range is America's—yes, the world's leading stove.

The Crawford Range leads in invention to make cooking practically automatic. The Crawford leads in patented superiorities. It has a score of unique and distinctive advantages. That is why the Crawford Range is a "Life Time" investment for your home. Crawford Ranges are sold everywhere. Our dealers will show you why it is the best Range in the world.

ASK THE ASSESSORS.

Why Is It Impossible to Have a Valuation of $50,000,000?

Weymouth the Home Town
Weymouth, Sept. 28, 1930.
Editor "Quickville Pioneer."

Dear Old Pal:—
Just as I am packing my grip I am confronted with another letter from Charlie Getshere.

How strange that he assumes to know me well enough to address me as "Dear Ebenezer", and yet does not know better than to accuse me of being connected with any kind of real estate booming! My most intimate friends never had occasion to suspect such a thing.

How strange that Charlie quotes so readily the bad things that John Askmore tells and accepts all his explanations without a question, but doubts every good thing that is said about Weymouth! Has he a grouch too?

Perhaps I ought not to have referred to John's creditors, and I am sorry indeed if I have done him any injustice, but advices from the Haw-haw City Bank are better evidence to me than John's claims or Charlie's apparent confidence, all of which may be very shocking to Charlie.

How strange that Charlie should care to visit Weymouth, in view of what John tells him, and his own discredit of the town!

Ah, he is bringing some choice(?) literature, is he? What does that mean? Does he mean to suggest that he has some scheme up his sleeve, while he is trying to put it over on me that I am a "boomer"?

Now that is quite thin, and he will find that Weymouth people have little sympathy for such conduct, in fact they feel no little indignation at his pessimistic attitude.

Well, if he has anything good to offer and up-to-date, I am sure the United Improvement Association will receive him cordially, but otherwise—perhaps he will conclude to keep the stuff in his grip when he sees how things really are here.

Now, why is it impossible for a town like Weymouth to have a valuation of $50,000,000? What is the limit of valuation for towns? According to old State reports, in 1910 the town of Milton Mass., was taxed on more than $26,000,000, and the town of Brookline Mass., was taxed on more than $108,000,000.

Brookline was taxed on $59,000,000 in 1895, and in fifteen years nearly doubled her valuation. I wish I had later data at hand. But where does the impossibility for Weymouth come in for this year 1930? Suppose you ask the assessors.

It is no part of my business to name the owners of large estates. Charlie would consult John Askmore before he believed me, if I did. He can have the same sources of information that I have had. Make a tour about the town, use his eyes, consult the town records and the town officers.

But enough of this. I leave for home to-morrow. I will use some of the hours of my long journey to write as well as I can a brief story of the recent progress of Weymouth as told me by an old man, a native of the town. He would not consent to let me tell his real name, said I might call him Alexander Tender-hand.

I can vouch for the accuracy of his statements about events that occurred before we went West, and so can you, and the integrity of the man and the general esteem in which he is held lead me to believe the whole story.

With this story my discussion of Weymouth affairs must cease, for I propose to devote myself to the development of Haw-haw City and Roarer County, with the Weymouth plan as a basis.

And in this work old pal, I hope to have your heartiest co-operation in Quickville.

Yours for good,
Ebenezer Getback.

WAKE-UP WARD THREE.

Are We Going to Let Our Business of Building Up the Town Fail?

Editor Gazette-Transcript
In Ward 3 there live today 819 men of voting age who have lived 34,807 years or 12,704,555 days or 304,909,320 hours or 18,294,559,200 minutes.

How many minutes of your lives have you given to booming your home town or belonging to any organization whose purpose is to boom our home town? Does it not seem as though about every man would give a few hours a year in booming our town?

It seems as though it was as important to collectively keep up your town, as to individually keep up our homes.

Most men are continually doing something to make their homes better and more modern. Really what special good does that do if our town is not kept up to the standard of our homes?

If you bring a visitor to our town, the first thing he sees is our town, and his first impression of our town is a lasting impression, and even though our homes look good to him he still sees our town after he has left us, and has occasion to recall his visit.

We would feel badly if he did not think well of our homes, but do we think, "does he think well of our town?" Is our town as attractive as it might be? Is there nothing we can do to improve it? Can it be better or look better until we have a large organization of citizens who will work for the good of our town as they work for the good of their homes?

These questions will continually stare the citizen in the face until something is done and done in the right way. The feeling, "oh, let the other fellow do it," has got to be killed and buried if we are to keep up to other towns who are in competition with us.

This making a town attractive in competition, it is a business proposition and must be handled in a business-like manner. If we all were partners in a business would it be a success if we handled it as we handle our town? Hardly.

Then are we going to let our business of competing with other towns in the building up of an attractive town, which really we are partners in, fall because we do not attend to business, or are we going to get together and properly organize to carry on business as it should be carried on? We elect our executive heads and put the whole burden on their shoulders, and let them carry the load.

A successful business today demands co-operation by all who would enjoy the benefits derived from being a part of a successful business organization. There is no room for any who do not enjoy being part of such, there are too many waiting for a chance.

Every real "boosting" society is a help to those whom we have burdened with the authority of looking after the welfare of our town, and that means also the up-keep. The several improvement societies and the Board of Trade are supposed to help the town executives keep our town where she should be. They do it to a certain extent.

A few years ago the Citizens Association was born and was in a healthy condition, and did considerable to help keep our town alive. Did they give up because they thought the town was in perfect health at the top of the list clutching the blue ribbon or did they think "there is no hope"?

Citizens' Association, come back to life, we need you. Out of 819 men can you not sign up 100 who are "ready and willing"? Two hundred would be better, and could carry "more weight," but one hundred will be better than none. What do you say, men? There is work to do. Who will start the ball rolling?
"Ready."

Holiday Meet.

On Columbus Day, October 12, there is to be an all-day old-fashioned athletic meet at the Fore River Athletic field at Quincy Point. There will be nothing lacking to interest everybody—men, women, boys and girls. There will be a six-inning base ball game at which an old score between the Fore River apprentices and the Bigelow A. A. will be settled and a grand five-a-side football tournament open to registered amateur football clubs. The football players too will have a crack at the 100 yard scratch race which is to be run in costume, the prize being a handsome gold watch.

Of course there is to be a tug-of-war, the other events including races for boys and girls, married and single ladies, old men (there are no old ladies at Fore River meets), hoop rolling, obstacle, sack and other contests which provide plenty of interest for the spectators. Then the ladies have a three-legged race and there is to be a pillow fight which will provide amusement galore.

There will be music by the Fore River band and glee club which means also that there will be dancing. The Midway, which always does a thriving business at Fore River meets, will be there to extract the nickels from the sports.

The real event for the ladies, however, is the beauty contest for single ladies 17 years old "and up." A jury of married men, whose names are carefully withheld, will decide the winners. It is stated that an aeroplane will be provided for their safe get-away after they have announced their award.

It is the closing event of the season and from elaborate preparations made, it will eclipse anything of the kind ever held in Quincy.

Columbus day the office of the Gazette-Transcript will be closed.

ASSESSED VALUATIONS.

The extraordinary increase in assessed valuations in the city of Quincy is the town talk of Weymouth and the State as well as Quincy, and taxpayers generally will watch to see if such assessments will stand. Gustave B. Bates, the new mayor, served on the board of assessors, the other two members being also appointed by him without confirmation. Quincy usually has a continuous board of three assessors, but last January the mayor removed those whose terms had not expired.
An entirely new board has increased Quincy's assessed valuation on personal property from $7,491,490 to $10,253,930, and the valuation of real estate has been jumped from $36,115,025 in 1915 to $52,199,300.
The total increase in valuation in one year was $18,785,193, a sum considerably in excess of the total valuation of all the property in Weymouth.
The valuation of the Fore River shipyard was increased $1,315,475 to $2-771,250, and the Old Colony railroad
$1,538,025 to $2,428,250. The valuation of J. F. Sheppard & Sons was increased $41,100 to $109,750, and
C. Patch & Son $18,300 to $42,150.
As a result the tax rate is reduced from $22.00 to $17.20, but as the total city levy this year is $139,991-70 larger than in 1915, the tax bills may be larger.

WE THANK YOU.

The new managing editor of the Gazette-Transcript fully appreciates the cordiality of the Weymouth people since the purchase of the paper was announced, especially by the town officials, the business men, the members of the Men's Club of the Clapp Memorial Association, and the press. The Quincy Patriot-Ledger commented as follows:

Frank F. Prescott, who retired from active newspaper work some time ago, is again to enter this field of work, having purchased the Weymouth Gazette and Transcript a Weymouth publication.
The Gazette is one of the oldest weekly newspapers in the state having been founded many years ago by the late

Charles E. Esterbrook. The experience which Mr. Prescott brings to the Gazette should make it one of the leading weekly publications of the state. Its field is a wide one. The plant is located in Weymouth Landing, and is well equipped for jobbing as well as newspaper work.
The many friends of Mr. Prescott wish him all success in his new undertaking.

ROAD RE-BUILDING.

The Street department has received its new road machine and Supt. Irving E. Johnson announces that a demonstration of its work will be made at Lincoln square Saturday afternoon at 1.30. Every one is invited, especially the taxpayers and all who are interested in good roads.
It is combination road machine and roller.

TRACK RELOCATION.

The Bay State Street railway have petitioned the Selectmen for certain changes in location of tracks on Front street, Columbian street, Pond street and Pleasant street. Interested parties should examine the plans submitted and attend the hearing to be held Oct. 20.

REGISTRATION.

All good citizens should take an interest in the government of their town, their state and the nation.
No one qualified should neglect the opportunity to get their names on the voting lists, and they are reminded that the time is limited. The Board of Registrars have found that a new law extends the time for registration in towns to Oct. 28 and have issued new notices and made some changes in the dates, as will be seen by the Gazette-Transcript today.

GOOD WORK BY PRESS.

The people of Wakefield responded promptly and generously to the call of the Wakefield Item, and have individually pledged $15,000 for the purchase of a public library site.
For a long time the Item has been hammering away at local pride and may now feel that it was not in vain.
It was a remarkable campaign.

WEYMOUTH HEIGHTS

—The Ladies Benevolent society connected with Old North church held their first supper of the fall season in the chapel last Friday evening. The committee in charge included Mrs. R. I. Steele, Mrs. B.
F. Smith, Mrs. Albert Newcomb and Mrs.
Frank Richards. A goodly number were present and a most appetizing supper was served. At 8 o'clock an impromptu entertainment, consisting of home talent was given. The program opened with a piano duet by Mrs. F. C. McDowell and Miss Florence B. Nash, which was followed by readings by Miss Louisa E. Humphrey and James L. Wildes. Also vocal solos were rendered by George B. Bicknell which received much applause.

—C. E. Loud and family who have been stopping at Marblehead for a short while, are again at their home on Commercial street for a few months.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kemp and baby formerly of Kingston, N. H., have moved into the house owned by Miss M. M. Hunt on King Oak hill. Mr. Kemp is the instructor at the Weymouth High school of the agricultural course.

—Mrs. C. F. Harris of New London, Conn., is a guest of Mrs. James B. Jones.
—C. H. Kemp, the instructor for the Agricultural Course at the High school, has rented the lower part of Miss M. M.
Hunt's house, and is soon to occupy with his wife and baby. Mr. and Mrs. Kemp were formerly of Kingston, N. H.

—Mrs. Mercy Hunt enjoyed the company of her son, Emerson Hunt and his wife from Medford, on Sunday.

—Mrs. Paul Smith and children have returned from a month's visit with relatives in Portland, Me.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Rauch have been spending a two weeks' vacation at Windham, N. H.

—Miss M. M. Hunt has had as recent guests Miss Wyath and Miss Fessenden of Cambridge.

—Miss Louisa E. Humphrey entertained her Sunday school class of young men at her home on Friday evening. A most enjoyable time was had by all.

—Fred Lunt is taking the Agricultural course at the Weymouth High school.

First Church Notes (Old North)

Prayer meetings will be held on Monday and Wednesday evenings of next week but no meeting will be held on Thursday. The meeting on Monday at 7.30 P. M. will be in the home of Charles Studley, corner of Church and North streets. You are invited.

On Wednesday, Oct. 11, the meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Geo. Ries at 7.30 o'clock. The invitation to attend is extended to you.

Come to your church on Sunday morning. Your seat is vacant unless you are there. There will be a note of cheer and

NORTH WEYMOUTH.

—About twenty people from the Pilgrim church attended the "campaign" meeting at South Weymouth on Sunday evening, the regular evening service being omitted on account of this meeting.

—The executive committee of the Christian Endeavor Society meets this evening with R. S. Gilmore at his home on Squanto road.

—At the "Block prayer meeting" this week, Miss Pearl Grant led the meeting on Monday evening at the home of Mrs.
John Bartlett. Mr. R. A. Hawes led the meeting at J. T. Ferris's on the same evening.

—On Wednesday evening, George W.
Beane led the meeting at Mr. Mason's home, and Mrs. R. A. Hawes led the meeting the same night at the home of Mrs. Edward Harrows on Saunders street.

—E. K. Kavanagh is at Atlantic City this week with the Ancient and Honour-ables.

—E. J. Jordan and family moved to Medford on Monday.

—Miss Bertha Prouty has gone to Laramie, Wyoming, where she will make her home with her uncle.

—J. A. MacDonald's family moved this week to East Braintree.

—Wilson E. Beane was operated on

OUR WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Doing a Good Work in Uniting the Town;
Sociability Not the Only Object.

Monday Club.

The first regular meeting of the Monday Club of Weymouth was held in Masonic hall on Monday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. Jennie B. Worster, presiding. There were present as guests of the club, the presidents and secretaries of many neighboring clubs.

Forty one new members have been enrolled for this year.

The business of the afternoon was quickly disposed of, that the members and guests might listen to a delightful concert by Mrs. Annie Estelle Hollis, soprano; Mr. Walter E. Loud, violinist; Miss Emma L. Clapp and Miss Lida Low, accompanists.

Tea was served by Mrs. Harriet B. Bachelder, hostess; Mrs. Washburn, Mrs. Richards, Mrs. Virgin, and Miss Cate poured.

Rebekahs at School.

Under the general supervision of Mrs. Mary C. Granger, president of the Rebekah Assembly, a school of instruction was held in Odd Fellows' Hall at South Weymouth Wednesday afternoon, in charge of the district instructor, Mrs. Mary P. Blakeman of Whitman.

From the I. O. O. F. Rebekah lodges of Brockton, South Weymouth, Randolph, Whitman, South Braintree, Abington, Rockland, Duxbury, Kingston, Plymouth, Bridgewater, Campello and North Abington 150 members attended.

At 6:30 a banquet was provided and in the evening the staff of Abigail Adams, Rebekah Lodge, Mrs. Jogine Bates, N.G., conducted an exemplification.

The following officers of the Massachusetts Rebekah Assembly were guests: Mrs. Mary C. Granger of South Weymouth, president; Mrs. Alice Rand of Brighton, vice president; Mrs. Bertha Gayton of Malden, marshal; Miss Rena Chamberlain of Milton, conductor; Mrs. Georgie Iversen of Lynn, IG, also the district deputy president, Mrs. Ellen O. Duman and Mrs. Lucy Godbold, marshal; Mrs. Ellen Sparrow, warden, and Mrs. Elsie Barker, district instructor, all of East Boston.

King's Daughters.

Weymouth will be honored next Thursday by the King's Daughters and Sons of Norfolk county, who will hold their 36th semi-annual convention in the Congregational church at East Weymouth. Mrs. James B. Jones the president of the Weymouth Union will welcome the delegates at the morning session at 10 o'clock, to which Mrs. George L. Badger of Quincy will respond. Reports and other business will follow. A message will be received from the State president. At the afternoon session at 1:30 Rev. Edward T. Ford will lead the devotional service. The meeting of the Pond Home corporation will be at 2:15 with reports and addresses by members of the board of trustees. Music will be a part of the program Adjournment at 4:30.

Club Notes.

The Order of Eastern Star held their regular meeting Tuesday evening. Two candidates were admitted to the chapter. Refreshments were served. There was a large attendance.

The Philergians of Braintree held their first meeting for this season Tuesday afternoon. Reports of biennial and state meetings were heard. There was vocal music by Miss Herson, and instrumental music by Marion Moorhouse, with Miss Mary H. Dyer and Mrs. S. P. Moorhouse as accompanists.

The Monday Club were well satisfied in their choice of Masonic hall as their place of meeting on Monday.

The guests and new members of the Monday Club were each presented with a pink by Miss Dora Cate and Mrs. Alice Jewell who are the flower committe.

Mrs. Harriet B. Bachelder who assumed the duties of hostess at a few days notice with her assistants served refreshments to the large number present at the Monday club.

It is a long time since the Monday club has had so many members for their first meeting. It looks as if there might be a waiting list this year.

ON THE BORDER.

Weymouth Soldier Boy Would Be Lonesome Without the Gazette.

Editor Gazette-Transcript:

A friend has just received the following letter from Conny Condric who is with Uncle Sam's boys on the Mexican border:

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 21, 1916.

Have just returned from a big parade and about all in. We started from camp at 6:30 this morning with one egg and one bacon sandwich. We paraded through the town at 8 o'clock and marched to Fort Bliss, a distance of about eight miles. There were about 36,000 men in the parade and it certainly was one grand sight, but I would rather have been one of the many spectators, instead of one of the paraders.

We arrived at Fort Bliss about 12 o'clock and watched the remainder of the troops arrive on the parade grounds. It must have been hard work for the Ohio troops, for they have been here but two weeks and are not hardened to the country. We were received at Fort Bliss by General Bell and his staff. The El Paso papers say it was the biggest military parade since the Civil War.

We went on a hike yesterday and returned at noon. We have a small rifle range located about six miles from here. I hope we don't have to hike there during the remainder of our stay here. We have all our work completed tonight that has been laid out by the government, and all the boys in the camp are wondering whether we are to keep on drilling or to entrain. Some say we are to leave for Columbus and others say we are going to drill every day until we get orders to break camp.

"Pat" Nugent still believes we will parade in Boston, Oct. 12. The Eighth regiment claims they are to leave here for home tomorrow, but our regiment thinks they will be here for a good many tomorrows.

The Fifth and Eighth regiments held boxing bouts last night but they were not finished because the spectators and referee could not agree. Tom McDonald met a man at least ten pounds over his weight and lost the decision. All the spectators thought Mac won the bout and when the decision was awarded against him the crowd jumped to their feet, and the result was the remainder of the bouts were cancelled.

"Dinky" Manuel is back with us now and tells many strange tales about different patients at the hospital.

All the Weymouth boys are in possession of trunks in anticipation of going home.

Write another cheerful letter and send the weekly paper. Would feel some lonesome if I didn't get the town news. With best wishes to all my friends,

"CONNY" CONDRIK.

OWES LIFE TO DOG

William Hunt of Weymouth, a Civil War veteran, 80 years old, owes his life to "Mutt," a 3-year-old pointer dog owned by Dr. Lewis F. Pease of 15 Front street.

Saturday morning Mr. Hunt who lives with his niece, Mrs. S. E. Thayer at 89 Plain street, South Braintree, started to visit Mrs. Frances Hunt, his brother's widow, who lives at 217 Summer street, Weymouth Landing. From where Mr. Hunt lives to Weymouth Landing is a distance of about 10 miles by road, but there is a short cut through some woods which makes the distance about five miles. The old man was born in the house next to that occupied by Mrs. Hunt, and he thought he remembered the way perfectly.

He started on his journey and after walking for a time lost the trail and wandered aimlessly through the woods until sick and exhausted, he fell down and was unable to rise. He had informed his niece that he might stay so when he failed to return Saturday at Mrs. Hunt's house for a day or two nothing was thought of the matter.

Sunday afternoon Dr. Lewis F. Pease was out in the woods with his dog, "Mutt." He was not hunting, though the dog is being trained for that purpose. He was simply giving him a run. When they reached what is known as six-acre lot the dog gave a howl and disappeared.

The doctor called and whistled, but was unable to get him to return. He followed the dog's course by his howls however, and when he finally came up him he found "Mutt" standing over Mr. Hunt, who was lying in some underbrush. He revived the old man, and after a time helped him to the home of his sister-in-law, a mile and a half away. Mr. Hunt stayed there a few hours and was later taken by automobile to the home of his niece.

Mr. Hunt is a veteran of Co. E, 12th Massachusetts Infantry, with which regiment he fought through the Civil War. After the war he went to California, where he lived for 30 years. He came to Massachusetts again six years ago.

Health for Family.

A man said only the other day: "The next house that I build is going to have a sun parlor no matter if we have to leave out everything else on the ground floor but the kitchen!"

ON THE FARM

The good dairy cow eats largely, digests amply and milks abundantly.

Pure fresh water should be given to calves as soon as they have learned to drink.

Poultry yards should have shade for chickens during the summer. If your hens do not have shade, plant trees for this purpose.

Leg weakness is a disease usually caused by forcing the growth of the chick too rapidly, especially those confined to the brooder, and not providing sufficient muscle-producing rations. Another frequent cause is improper temperature in the brooder.

Twice as many eggs are laid in the first six months of the year as are laid in the last six months. The first six months gives part of winter, all of spring and part of summer. This is the time when laying is most prolific and when the most profit is made. The last six months includes the time of molting and the maturing of the pullets to laying age, and is consequently the least profitable part of the poultryman's year.

Weaning pigs only 3 months old will do better on a mixture of shorts with water, or some milk, if you can provide same, and a little corn meal, than with any other combination of feeds. Their stomachs are not ready at this age to utilize such heavy nitrogenous feeds as cow-peas or peanuts. As soon as they are 5 or 6 months old they will be able to use these materials to good advantage. Such animals also need a variety of feeds. Some grazing would be very helpful.

The late winter apples which do not gain their maturity until February or March should be put in cold storage. If there is not enough to justify barreling for storage, they should be buried or placed in a well ventilated cellar and not put on the market until their season. In that way they are better enjoyed by the consumer. Very loose methods prevailed in marketing fruit up to a few years ago. Apples were heaped in wagons and peddled to the consumer, who bought enough for this winter's use and stored them away in his cellar.

One of the most common mistakes in the feeding of dairymen on the farm is that the good cows are not given a sufficient quantity of feed above that required for their physical maintenance to obtain the maximum quantity of milk they are capable of producing. Successful feeding of dairy cows involves the providing of an abundant supply of palatable, nutritious feed at a minimum cost and feed at a minimum cost and feeding in such a way as to receive the largest milk production from the feed consumed. Feeding for profit is defined as liberal feeding, or feeding to the full capacity of the cow.

It pays to use plenty of lubricating oil on farm machinery. Where the oil or axle grease is used sparingly the draft or load of the machine is increased at least 20 per cent. Because of its economy hard oil should be used in preference to ordinary machine oil wherever possible. The hard oil will not waste as easily and is cheaper than machine oil.

A well-lubricated machine will last longer than one that is not sufficiently well oiled. The dustproof box on most axles of modern farm machinery has done much to lengthen the life of the machines and is saving the lubricant. Care must be taken to keep this box well oiled or it will wear out.

The cost of repairing machinery is high but the time that is lost in replacing worn-out pieces may mean a loss of hundreds of dollars to the farmer.

ARE YOU SUSCEPTIBLE TO WEATHER CHANGES?

Many Weymouth People Have Found Their Kidneys to be at Fault.

There is no organ in the body more susceptible to weather changes than the kidneys. Colds, chills, damp changing weather all play their part in bringing on kidney ills. "If you would be well, keep your kidneys well" is a golden rule of health and one Gazette readers would do well to follow. If suffering from any form of kidney sickness you can use no better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. This great kidney remedy has been curing kidney trouble 75 years and is absolutely free from all opiates or habit-producing drugs. Convincing proof of merit in the statement of an East Weymouth resident:

John J. Higgins, 18 Canterbury street, East Weymouth, says: "Exposure and all kinds of weather tended to bring on trouble with my kidneys. My back got so bad that some days I couldn't sit or straighten. Severe headaches and dizzy spells caused me much suffering and often I felt weak and tired all over. Sometimes I was confined to bed for weeks at a time. The kidney secretions caused me great annoyance by passing too frequently at night. The secretions were colored, painful in passage and contained sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills gave me so much benefit from the start that I kept on taking them and soon improved greatly."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Higgins had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts PROBATE COURT.

TO the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of HARLAN F. NEWTON late of Weymouth in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to George A. Benton of said Weymouth, without giving a surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the eighteenth day of October, A. D. 1916, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Weymouth Gazette, a newspaper published in said Weymouth, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esq., Judge of said Court, this twenty-sixth day of September, A. D. 1916. J. R. McCOOLE, Register

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

TO THE HONORABLE THE BOARD OF SELECTMEN OF THE TOWN OF WEYMOUTH:

Respectfully represents the BAY STATE STREET RAILWAY COMPANY:

That it owns and operates street railway tracks in the Town of Weymouth, and that public necessity and convenience require certain alterations, relocations and extension thereof.

WHEREFORE, your petitioners, as such Street Railway Company, prays for alterations, relocations and extension of its tracks in said Weymouth, to wit:

Relocation of track in Front Street, from Nash's Corner to a point 900 feet North of Winter Street, and extension of turnout in said Front Street;

Relocation of track in Columbian Street, from Columbian Square to Main Street;

Relocation of track in Pond and Pleasant Streets, from South Weymouth Railroad Station to Columbian Square.

Together with such switches, curves and cross connections as may be necessary or convenient for operation of the cars of said Company, all substantially as shown on plans to be filed with this petition; and that it be granted the right to operate said tracks with electricity as the motive power, and to make all necessary changes in poles, wires and other appliances connected therewith; also to act as a common carrier of newspapers, baggage, express matter and freight upon the above petitioned for extension and relocations of tracks.

BAY STATE STREET RAILWAY CO. By P. F. Sullivan, President.

Weymouth, October 2, 1916.

OFFICE OF THE SELECTMEN OF WEYMOUTH.

East Weymouth, Mass., October 2, 1916.

Upon consideration of the foregoing petition, at a meeting of the Board of Selectmen of Weymouth, held at its office on this date, it was ordered:

That a public hearing be held at this office on the evening of Friday, the twentieth day of October, 1916, at fifteen minutes before eight o'clock, for the consideration of the foregoing petition and for action thereon, and that notice be given to all persons interested by publishing said petition and notice thereon in the Weymouth Gazette and Weymouth Times, newspapers published in said Weymouth, on the sixth and thirteenth days of October 1916, and by serving the same by copy upon the clerk of said BAY STATE STREET RAILWAY COMPANY fourteen days at least before the time of said hearing.

There will be courses in Practical Arts, Citizenship, Practical Business and also for illiterate minors. Voted to reopen the Athens school next Monday.

High School Football.

The High school football team promises to equal the records of former years. Coaches Foley and Bartlett have had the boys out for practice the last two weeks.

Last years veterans who are playing this year are: Captain Curtin (quarterback), "Ding" Richardson (full-back), Whittle and Mahoney (ends), C. Palmer and Crehan (tackles), "Bob" McIntosh (guard) and Sprague (center).

Promising candidates include: Arthur Sampson and Tony Mauro for backs, Bettincourt and Robertson ends; R. Palmer, Harlow, Smith, Rand, Williamson and Haviland for the line. Several others are also trying hard for positions and may be playing as regulars before the season progresses far. Whittle, Sampson and C. Palmer are punting and Whittle is doing most of the drop kicking.

It is expected that money enough will be raised for equipment of the team this year. Subscription books are now being circulated and a season ticket for all home games will be issued to everybody contributing a dollar or more. As the safety of the players as well as the appearance of the team is an important feature, the support of the townspeople is strongly urged.

Great interest is being shown as the time approaches for the Quincy game at Weymouth Friday, October 13. Strong rivalry has always existed between the two schools, so those who can attend this game will be assured of their moneys worth.

Party-Line Consideration

A party line is a single circuit from the premises of more than one person to the central office, technically connected so that more than one subscriber may obtain service over that circuit used in common.

A party line is not reserved for a single user any more than an entrance to an apartment house is like the entrance to a private residence.

On a 4-party line, it is possible for all four stations to try to talk out on the same circuit at the same time. There is also the liability of all four stations being wanted at the same time to receive incoming calls on the single circuit.

Therefore, there are special considerations which a party line user should keep in mind:

1. Long conversations prevent the use of the line by other subscribers; therefore party line talks should be as brief as possible.
2. Whenever another party line subscriber requests the use of that line for an emergency, courtesy should prompt the first user temporarily to give up the use of the line.
3. Whenever a party line subscriber takes the receiver from the hook and finds the line in use, the receiver should be replaced at once in a careful manner; when a party line receiver is left off the hook, the transmission is considerably reduced.
4. At the end of a conversation the receiver should be replaced upon the hook immediately, otherwise the other subscriber cannot signal the central office.

AND the one who is calling a party line number should remember that when the operator reports "the line is busy," she means that any one of the stations is being used.

RUN DOWN AND KILLED

Auto Hits Man Who Was Leading Two Horses

Edward Powers, 35 years old, of Winsor street Cambridge, was killed last evening by an automobile operated by Harrison Loring Wirt, of 1053 Beacon street. Brookline, a nephew of Atherton Loring, with whom he makes his home.

Wirt is a student at the Institute of Technology. With Wirt in the car were his two brothers and two women. The women gave the names of Martha Breen and Alida Tengen, and both gave their address at 1053 Beacon street.

Powers was formerly a driver in the Boston Fire department. He was leading two horses from an auction stable in Weymouth to Hingham. The police say Wirt was going at the rate of 30 miles an hour, and he struck the man head on. Wirt told the police he could not see the man in the dark. He was arrested for manslaughter and released in $1000 bonds, furnished by his uncle, Atherton Loring.

Auto Collision.

About 11.30 a. m., Thursday a narrow escape from a serious collision occurred near the fountain in Independence square. As an auto driven by Herbert F. Vining, of Columbian street, with his family, approached the square from the depot, they were met by an auto driven by a Mr. Lorton of Dorchester, who, when coming down Main street, apparently started to turn into Pond street in order to avoid the repairs being made on the state road. As he turned he appeared to see Mr. Vining approaching, so in order to avoid a head-on collision he swung sharply to the left, resulting in a rear-end collision which threw one of the women passengers of Mr. Lorton's car out of the auto, causing a severe scalp wound.

She was taken to the office of Dr. Tihrel, and after treatment returned to her home in Dorchester. The occupants of Mr. Vining's car escaped with a severe shaking up. Mr. Vining's car was quite badly damaged about the front. Apparently the only damage to Mr. Lorton's car was the bending of the rear fenders.

TWO ALARMS FOR FIRE

Factory of Alden, Walker and Wilde Threatened

At 9.30 last night box 21 rang in and every one was at once on the inquiring list as it is one of the danger boxes in town. The village was soon aglow by a lively blaze which had burst out in the stable at the store of Fred E. Loud corner of Broad and Madison streets.

A minute from the sound of the alarm Combination 2 was on the spot and lost no time in applying water. Five horses and several wagons were in the building which were gotten out with difficulty.

The barn of Charles Mathewson within a few feet was in peril and soon on fire but not much damage. The Alden Walker & Wilde factory is just across the street and grave fears of its destruction were felt, but a current of air in the opposite direction aided much in saving it also in saving the store which was also quite near the burning building.

The building in which the fire originated and it is the third mysterious fire in a short time, is a total loss but four pigs in the cellar came through much better than seven tons of hay in the mow, as the pigs are alright this morning.

Lines of hose across Broad and Madison streets tied up travel on both car lines for several hours. The new apparatus did great work and almost paid for itself in one night.

Verdict for $9,465.

At Dedham on Tuesday a jury in the Norfolk Superior Court awarded Edwin C. Litchfield of South Braintree $9,465 in his suit against the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company for personal injuries and damages to his horse and wagon, which was run into Feb. 23, 1915, on Washington street, Weymouth, by an automobile of the defendant company. Mr. Litchfield sued for $25,000.

A free public lecture on Christian Science is announced for Sunday, Oct. 15, at the Braintree State House, by George Shaw Cook, C. S. B.

Large Gathering at Orphans Hope Lodge Last Night

Right Worshipful Charles G. Jordan, district deputy grand master of the 30th, with his suite, made an official visit to Orphans Hope lodge A. F. & A. M. last night. District Deputy Jordan was accompanied by a very strong suite of experienced officers with Wor. Bro. Atherton N. Hunt as district deputy grand marshal. There was also present large delegations from Quincy, Wollaston, Braintree and other lodges.

The suite of the deputy included Wor. Bro. Henry S. Higgins of Delta lodge of Braintree as senior grand warden; Wor. Bro. Carroll E. Bates of Wollaston lodge as junior grand warden; Wor. Bro. Henry T. Hayward of Rural lodge of Quincy as grand treasurer; Wor. Bro. George E. White as grand secretary, and Wor. Bro. Atherton N. Hunt of Delta lodge as grand marshal.

The deputy brought an extended message from the Grand Master. The fire in the neighborhood caused lots of excitement during the meeting.

Silver Wedding.

Weymouth Odd Fellows and others from Weymouth assisted Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Beedem of Brockton observe their silver wedding anniversary on Saturday evening. A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation by Grand Marshal Clayton Merchant of East Weymouth of a past grand collar, wrought in silver and red velvet, a gift to Mr. Beedem. Grand Marshal Merchant presented the gift in behalf of the suite from Crescent lodge, I. O. O. F., of East Weymouth, of which Mr. Beedem is deputy and the officers and wives of the lodge. Mr. Joseph Cushing of East Weymouth, 76 years of age, was one of the guests. About 17 years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Beedem moved from East Weymouth to Brockton, where Mr. Beedem is now in the clothing room of a store and has a daughter.

ATLANTIC MAN KILLED

When an Automobile Turns Turtle on Broad Street

A fatal accident occurred shortly after 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon on Broad street near the laboratory of E. S. Hunt & Sons. One man was killed and the three other occupants of the car seriously injured. The dead man was Joseph Sullivan, aged 30, of Atlantic. The car was owned and operated by James A. Fay of Atlantic. The other two passengers were William Hayes of East Milton and Cornelius Leary of Atlantic. The three later were all taken to the Quincy hospital.

The automobile, a big touring car, was coming at a high rate of speed, and when near the above place turned turtle. All the men being pinned underneath. By-standers lifted the machine and gave first aid to the injured men. Sullivan lived about five minutes after being taken from under the machine. His remains were viewed by Medical Examiner Fraser, and later removed to his home. Of the other three men Fay was the most seriously injured. He sustained a broken arm, broken wrist and a big cut over the eye, and it is feared a fracture of the skull. Leary and Hayes were badly cut and bruised.

This is the third serious automobile accident in Ward 3 in the past three weeks. Shortly after the accident occurred Inspector Fitzgerald and Officers C. W. Baker and William Trask arrived and were of great aid to the injured men. The street was covered with blood and the fire department was called out to wash down the street.

Thrown from Auto.

As William J. Kyle of 66 Norton street, North Weymouth, the driver of the Quincy and Boston express auto of Bert Miller, was making a trip from Boston on Monday, Henry P. Collins of Norfolk Downs, a stranger to him, begged a ride. Collins was on the rear of the truck, and in the street corner he lost his balance and he fell headlong to the street. He was rushed to the City Hospital, but died without regaining consciousness. Kyle reported the accident to the police and was exonerated from all blame.

Burns Cause Death.

William F. Holmes, the 6-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Holmes of 466 Middle street, Braintree, died Monday afternoon from burns received Sunday, when his clothing caught fire while playing about near his home. The lad's screams were heard by his mother, who endangered her own life in trying to extinguish the flames. Her hands were very badly burned.

Birthday Gathering

Mrs. Sarah J. Nash, widow of the late George F. Nash of Weymouth, celebrated her 81st birthday at her residence, 70 Green street, Jamaica Plain, on Monday. During the evening many friends arrived from Rockland, Me., Braintree, Quincy and Medford, and a birthday supper was tendered Mrs. Nash. Many presents were received and a delightful evening was enjoyed.

BOARD OF TRADE Members Enlightened by Engineer John- son Relative to a Sewerage System

An interesting meeting of the Board of Trade was held Wednesday evening at the Clapp Memorial building, being attended by representative citizens from all the wards. President B. B. Wright was in the chair.

The special guests of the evening were H. J. Hill of Washington, D. C., who presented at length the mission of the American Red Cross; and W. S. Johnson, a civil engineer with experience on the Metropolitan Sewerage board, who spoke relative to a sewerage system for Weymouth.

Mr. Hill not only told of the work of the Red Cross on the battlefields, but said base hospitals were today being established at strategic points all over the United States to cope with any disaster that might arise. Supplies were being stored, and surgeons and nurses were pledged to respond promptly. Funds were needed and were secured from new memberships. He hoped to enroll many Weymouth people.

Engineer Johnson said if Weymouth was ready for a sewerage system it should make an effort to secure entrance into the Metropolitan system. He believed this possible. Sewerage could be gathered at some point near the Fore River and pumped to some point in Quincy, a trunk sewer passing through that city. At first it need cover only the thickly settled parts of the town. A good place for a purification bed ought to be obtained in South Weymouth.

He was asked as to the Metropolitan assessment, how much of a bonded indebtedness would be necessary for the town, assessments on abutters, etc. The cost per mile is from $5,000 to $15,000, the average being about $10,000. Weymouth has 72 miles of streets. He told of contamination of water supplies, and freely answered all questions asked.

Mr. Johnson was given a rising vote of thanks.

President Wright then brought up the question of publicity of the doings of the Board of Trade, and recommended paid advertising in the local papers.

Editors Cook, Hawes and Prescott explained some of the difficulties of the local press, but promised co-operation. The new editor of the Gazette, when introduced, was given a hearty welcome.

The need of traffic rules at Lincoln square, Jackson square and other points were urged by different speakers, both for the street railway and automobiles. Referred to transportation committee to draft regulations.

Voted, on motion of M. E. Hawes, that at the next meeting the subject be: How to get more safety from electric cars and automobiles.

D. M. Kidder reported for the committee on streets and sidewalks.

Mr. Jewell was elected a member.

Among those taking part in the debate were Dr. Joseph Chase, M. Sheehy, Henry A. Day, W. W. Grant, Charles Downing, E. E. Leonard, Rev. E. T. Ford, M. E. Hawes, Sidney Cook, Frank F. Prescott and others.

TOWN BUSINESS.

Selectmen's Business and Other Departments of Work and Expenditures.

A. P. Worthen reports the result of a talk with the Public Service Commission, and there will be no change in railroad conditions in Weymouth with the exception that what has been a five-cent fare will now be six cents. Zones and transfers will be the same as before, and also workmen's and school tickets.

The law enacted in 1911, making a five-year residence necessary in order for a person to become "towned" as eligible for town aid in case of need, becomes operative this year, and the selectmen find 31 persons who are thus barred out from town aid and must now seek aid of the State, or some other town.

The much discussed town by-laws are again at the front, and it appears that the code which came from the attorney general's office was a mistake of that office and not what was intended. The proper code is now in evidence and more in keeping with the need of the town.

At the Monday meeting of the selectmen it was voted to ask the Bay State Street Railway to fill in their tracks on Broad, near Essex, and also other places as needed.

The Light & Power Co. have petitioned to erect poles on Washington Street, from Middle to Main streets, and a hearing will be held on the same Monday, Oct. 23, at the Selectmen's office. At the same meeting hearing on request of J. P. Fisher for permit to maintain a gasoline tank at 81 Washington street.

At a recent meeting of the committee on appropriations it was voted to take $500 from the reserve fund, to be placed at the disposal of the Board of Health.

The Board of Education recommend Carl E. Linquist, John Nuiro, Geo. E. McCarthy and Richard Loud as pupils to be admitted to the Quincy Industrial School.

On Monday the Selectmen signed the warrant for the State election, Nov. 4.

STATE CONVENTION.

The State conventions of both the Republican and Democratic parties,

as held last week, gave to the public

nothing especially new in the aims and objects of the two leading parties of the nation. There are decidedly grave questions, both in regard to foreign relations and domestic affairs to be handled, and the great need of the hour is men of sterling qualities and diplomatic ability.

At home we have all along the line

a feeling of unrest and uncertainty

as to future business prospects, on account of labor and other difficulties, and in our foreign relations the Mexican problem is far from a satisfactory adjustment. The great European war is every day drawing nearer and nearer our shore, and wise is the head that can keep it outside the three mile limit, and at the same time maintain the dignity and self respect of the nation.

The situation now calls for a party or men who stand for America first,

last and always; legislative gathering of individuals, independent to act for the best interest of the people, and not for specific purposes

which are not of a general public benefit.

OLD TIME CAUCUS.

Twenty-three years ago last Saturday night one of the best of "Old-

Time" Republican caucuses was held at the Town Hall, then located at the

NINETEEN YEARS AGO.

Last Saturday was the 19th anniversary day of the laying of the corner stone of Weymouth High School building.

The weather man on that occasion was not as considerate of the comforts of open air gatherings as he was last Saturday, as a cold east wind prevailed, but yet there was a good attendance and interesting exercises.

Dr. W. A. Drake, chairman of the building committee, opened the exercises with a brief statement of the work accomplished, and introduced M. E. Hawes as master of ceremonies.

Music was by the combined North and South High schools, under direction of A. J. Sidelinger, music teacher, assisted by C. Elmer Hollis, cornet.

Miss Louise Humphrey of the North High school staff, with the assistance of workmen, placed the cornerstone which now covers interesting records in position, and gave a short talk.

Her father, the late Hon. James Humphrey, followed in response to the toast "Pioneers in Weymouth school work."

Gordon Willis, chairman of the selectmen, responded to the "Town of Weymouth."

"The School Board of Weymouth" was responded to by Bradford Hawes.

Louis A. Cook spoke for South Weymouth in the "Consolidated Schools," and the exercises closed with benediction by Rev. William Hyde.

IMPROVEMENTS

We quite agree with our correspondent, "Ready," in his attempts to wake up Ward Three, and Weymouth generally.

If Weymouth really had 100 rosters and enthusiastic workers the results would be surprising.

Too many are willing that the other fellow should do it all, and then do not give him any credit or encouragement.

Let us have co-operation. If we cannot have a live improvement society, let all the people encourage the local papers and help them to get improvements all along the line.

A successful paper can do much for the town.

FIFTY MILLION VALUATION

People generally were amused at the prediction of Ebenezer Getback that Weymouth might have a valuation of $50,000,000 in 1930.

Possibly the town might if our Assessors resorted to Quincy methods, but we hardly think they will.</

NINETY-ONE NEW HOUSES

Assessors Found 3,816 in April Where There Were Only, 3,725 a Year Previous

This week the Assessors forwarded to the State House a complete copy of the assessed valuation of the property in the town of Weymouth as they are required to every three years. Below the Gazette-Transcript gives the figures for 1916 in comparison with 1915.

There is an increase in the number of persons assessed, both residents and non-residents. The number assessed a poll only is smaller. Both the personal estate and the real estate shows an increase. The land is valued less than in 1915, and at less than half the value of the buildings. The total valuation is $12,981,333 against $12,802,614 last year.

A larger sum was levied on real estate than 1915, and a larger sum on both personal and poll. The total levy was $280,454 against $256,142 last year. The tax rate is $21 per $1,000 against $19.40 last year.

The Assessors found 3,816 houses, an increase of 91 from 1915, showing some growth in the town. However there are less horses, less cows, less swine and less fowl. Over 9,711 acres were assessed.

The Assessors aggregates for the two years are:

SIGNALS

SECOND ALARM—Six blows, followed by box number.

GENERAL ALARM—Five twos.

ALL OUT—Two blows.

Three blows on the alarm calls the Chief.

NO SCHOOL: . . . sounded twice. It will be sounded at 7.30 A. M. for no sessions in all the grades; at 8 A. M. for no sessions in Grades I to IV inclusive in the forenoon; at 11.45 A. M. for no sessions in Grades I to IV inclusive during the afternoon; and at 12.45 P. M. for no sessions in all the grades in the afternoon.

The First Telephone.

The telephone, in an imperfect form, was first exhibited at the Centennial exposition in Philadelphia in 1876. The company for its development was formed soon afterward.

ON THE FARM

The corn ought to be well ripened by this time. Pick out a few ears for next season's planting.

Next season's fruit buds are now forming and it is a good idea to thin out the wood a little, to give the new buds a chance to gather strength.

About this time of year the poultrymen should begin changing over from the summer rations for the chickens to the winter formula.

No cow can do good work as a milker that has to put in most of her time gathering something to eat.

After the fruit harvest in the orchard go over the grounds and pick up and destroy all worthless, rotten and wormy fruit.

There is no danger in feeding table scraps that have been seasoned with pepper and salt, since these condiments have a beneficial effect on the fowl's digestion.

Milk in any form is highly nutritious and forms an excellent egg-producing diet. When there is sour milk put it on the back of the stove and allow it to come to a clabbered state, after which it may be fed to the hens.

A large per cent. of the early rotting of fruit is due to faulty picking; use great care not to bruise fruit or to break stems; use the splint basket with a swinging ball. Bags are very undesirable as picking receptacles.

Take care of the plows. Put them under cover. Clean and grease bright parts so that when wanted next spring they will scour and save the time so many farmers lose in putting their implements into working order.

Give fresh and clean water to the fows several times a day and especially let the first drink in the morning be clean water. Water standing over night during warm weather is liable to be full of dust, poison and parasites. These are not good for chickens. Fowls should have all the pure water they can drink, for they drink a great deal in summer, and when fresh water is not furnished to them they are apt to drink any foul water they may have access to. This is bound to cause trouble by breeding all manner of diseases.

Don't "Jiggle" The Hook

When you take the receiver off of the switchhook of your telephone, a small electric lamp is lighted on the switchboard in front of the operator. To that signal she responds with the familiar "Number, please?"

After your connection has been made with the other person, there are no lights on the switchboard until your receivers are placed on the switchhooks again, which signals mean, to the operator, that the conversation has ended.

If you desire to get the operator's attention, you may do so by moving the receiver hook down and up, but IT MUST BE DONE SLOWLY, or the little lamp will not glow on the switchboard and the operator will not get any signal. Your observance of this method of signaling will insure more prompt attention by the operator and will help to make the service better.

The above suggestions are applicable to all subscribers located where the light signalling system is in use.

Two Fire Alarms.

Twice Wednesday evening Combination 2 responded to alarms. The first, box 224, was for a blaze discovered in the hay loft of the stable of Egbert V. Warren, 288 Middle street. The response was quick, but the fire, a mysterious one originating in the top of a mow of hay, had made good headway before discovery, and the result was, the destruction of two tons of hay, the roof and part of two sides of the barn.

The second alarm, box 43, at Nash's Corner, was for an automobile on fire near Winter street. The machine belonged to Mr. Ames of Quincy, and the origin of the blaze is a question of doubt among automobile experts. While not a total loss the machine was considerably damaged.

Bertram Nash who was seriously injured by being hit by an automobile a few weeks ago was taken to the Massachusetts General hospital this week, where x-rays were taken of his injuries. It will be months before he will be able to about.

John Reid. The bride's attendants were her sister, Elizabeth Chase of Cambridge, and Marjorie Bennett, sister of the groom. The best men were Henry E. Bruce and Walter E. Bennett, brother of the groom.

The bride was gowned in a very becoming suit of blue serge and carried a beautiful bridal bouquet of sweetheart roses. After the ceremony the bride and groom were well showered with blessings and rice, and then started on an auto trip. They will reside at Franklin.

Mrs. Bennett, before her marriage, was Miss Myrtle Bradford Chase, who in her childhood days lived on Front street, Weymouth. She has a brother, Ralph Chase who lives in East Weymouth, and is well known in and around Weymouth as a nurse. All her friends and relatives are wishing the bride all good luck. She is a very popular person.

Killed on Railroad.

An unknown man was killed on the railroad at the River street crossing, near the Braintree depot, on Monday about 5.30. The initials H. L. were tattooed on his arm. He had in his pocket a Braintree and Brockton railroad ticket.

TRAVEL TALK

Selectman Bradford Hawes Writes of the Cave of the Winds.

Editor Gazette and Transcript:

In the letter last week we had just arrived at the "Cave of the Winds," near Colorado Springs, and will now tell what we saw there:

The entrance is through a narrow passage and the daylight is soon shut out. This is hardly missed however as the mile of narrow passage and the several chambers are well lighted night and day by electricity. Sixty-thousand people visit this natural wonder annually. Geologists estimate that nature worked a hundred thousand years to form these subterranean vaults and the connecting passages, which for much of the way are but a few feet in width.

One of the most interesting features to one who has never before beheld anything of the sort, is the large number of stalactites, great and small, which hang from the roofs of several of the chambers, with their corresponding stalagmites rising from the rocky floor beneath. For the benefit of any reader who may not know how nature forms these curious productions, I will endeavor to give the process briefly. The water which percolates through the rocky roof, brings with it in solution more or less of the mineral substances through which it has found its way. Upon being exposed to the action of air these again solidify and the growth of the stalactite is like that of the icicles from the eaves of our houses.

As age after age passes the stalactites increase in length and in many instances the water dripping from them carries sufficient mineral to start a growth of stalagmite—like an icicle pointing upward—from the floor. If the process is continued long enough the two may meet and grow together, forming a slender column. In one place we were shown where barely an inch separated the point of a stalactite from that of a stalagmite. I was told by our guide that it was estimated that it would take a thousand years for these to grow together.

In one chamber, called the curiosity shop, is seen a formation of these peculiar growths the like of which exists nowhere else in the world. In this room the stalactites are not more than six or eight inches long, but instead of hanging down straight they are deflected at various angles. In some cases growing horizontally and connecting with others. No explanation has ever been offered to account for this freak growth.

In Gypsum Alcove the walls are purest white, as also in the Bridal Chamber. In the Crystal Palace, the walls are studded with brilliant crystals, giving a beautiful effect. In the Old Maid's Kitchen, is a collection of thousands of hair-pins, left by maidens young and old, who expect to be married within the year. Majestic Hall, is the largest of the rooms, being two hundred feet in length and one hundred in width.

After about two hours spent in the exploration of this wonderful underworld, we emerged again into the sunlight and I was able to say that I had been over and through the mountains.

Bidding farewell to the Cave of the Winds we started for the Garden of the Gods which is about three miles distant. This constitutes a part of the park system of Colorado Springs and comprises four hundred and eighty acres. It is probably the queerest park owned by any city in the land. The unique features of the garden consists in the grotesque rock formations which abound through it. Several of these bear a real or fancied resemblance to some animal for which they are named as the Bear, Seal, the Porcupine, the Alligator, the Frog, the Ape, and others.

Then there is the Steamboat Rock, the Stage Coach, the balanced rock which is estimated to weigh five hundred tons and is balanced on a base four feet by five, and one section known as Mushroom Park, so called from the numerous mushroom shaped rocks.

At the easterly end of the garden, as we approach the "Gateway," are lofty pinnacles which have received names as follows: The Three Graces, rearing their slender points one hundred and twenty feet high; the Ruins of Montezuma's Temple, two hundred and fifty feet; The Needle Rock, so called for its slender and symmetrical shape and the Tower of Babel, which is the highest of them all, towering three hundred and fifty feet above the ground. Red sand stone predominates throughout the gardens, which geology teaches us is formed at the bottom of the ocean and has been lifted to these heights. In the formation of the rock it acquired varying degrees of hardness and all of these forms which I have mentioned and numerous others have been chiselled out by the action of water and wind wearing away the softer portions and leaving the harder parts in the numerous fanciful forms in which they are now seen.

We passed out through the "Gate" which is a passage way about a hundred feet wide between two lofty crags and returned to the city late in the afternoon.

Toward sunset I took a stroll about the city and was favored with a view of one of the beautiful cloud effects which are common in this section of the country. Passing down a street called Pike's Peak avenue I saw the peak directly before me and seven or eight miles distant a big fleecy cloud lay upon the mountain top. The sun was behind the cloud and a border of the brightest gold edged the cloud and the top of the mountain. Presently the cloud thinned between me and the sun, which was then about fifteen minutes above the mountain, and long rays of light with rainbow colors were thrown high up the sky and also far down the mountain side. These wavered back and forth for a minute like searchlights, until the cloud again shut out the sun, and only the golden rim over the mountain top and the cloud remained. The sun soon sank behind the mountain and the color slowly faded into the shades of evening.

Bradford Hawes.

Weymouth 7; Abington 6.

Weymouth High football team opened the season with a rush Friday afternoon by defeating their old rivals, Abington High, at Abington, score 7 to 6.

Abington is very light this year, averaging ten pounds less per man, but even with that handicap they showed a good fighting spirit from start to finish. Weymouth's team work is sadly lacking, while the individual playing is of the first class.

Abington scored the first touchdown in the first half. After Weymouth lost the ball on a fumble Captain Kieley carried it over from the one-yard line by a quarter-back rush.

Mauro and Richardson were responsible for a number of good gains. Mauro, after a fourteen-yard end run scored Weymouth's touchdown. Whittle, the left-end, kicked the goal.

Hanson and Robertson starred for Abington on their defensive work. The score—

WEYMOUTH	ABINGTON
Whittle, 1 e	r e, Reardon
Palmer, 1 t	r t, Sanderson
M'Intosh, 1 g	r g, Wallace
Sprague, c	c, Houd
Smith, r g	g, Hanson
Crehan, Peterson, r t	l t, Sheehan, Arnold
Mahoney, r e	l e, Allen
Curtin, q b	q b, Kieley
Mauro, l h b	r h b, Goldstein
Garsala, r h b	l h b, McKewen
Richardson, f b	f b, Robertson

Score, Weymouth, 7; Abington 6. Touchdowns—Kieley, Mauro. Goals—Whittle. Referee—Arnold. Umpire—Wheeler. Head Linesman—Bartlett. Timers—Bartlett and Bragdon. Linesmen—Freeman and Reid. Time—ten-minute periods.

Catarrrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. F. J. CLEMENT & CO., Toledo, O.

Daisy's Hero

He Proved, Too, He Was a Real One

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Mrs. Howard glanced apprehensively toward the row of steamer chairs where her pretty daughter, Daisy, was engaged in animated conversation with a good looking, athletic young man.

"Daisy is so imprudent," murmured Daisy's mother as she neared the chairs. "There is poor Hal eating his heart out, and that naughty girl is devoting herself to young Pearson!"

She smiled coldly at Ben Pearson as he arose promptly at her approach and arranged her chair. When she was seated and the rug tucked about her feet Mrs. Howard glanced significantly at Daisy.

"My dear, did you know that Hal was waiting for you? You promised to play accompaniments for him."

"Oh, mother, I forgot all about it!" cried Daisy as she arose and settled the blue cloth cap on her bright hair.

"Mr. Pearson was describing the great Yale-Harvard game—you know he was halfback on the football team!" Daisy cast an admiring glance at Pearson's broad shoulders.

Mrs. Howard smiled perfunctorily, and she was nettled to observe that Ben Pearson accompanied Daisy in her search for Hal Denison. Just as she was congratulating herself that this Mediterranean tour, with all its pleasant intimacy of ship life, must bring about an engagement between Daisy and Hal Denison, the son of her old friend, why, who should appear but this football hero, Ben Pearson, and promptly put poor Hal out of the running.

Why they called Hal Denison Poor Hal one could not tell, for, although he was not big and brawny like Ben Pearson, he was not tall looking unless one especially noted the intellectual face which had a certain delicacy of feature and expression. Otherwise, although Hal Denison was small in stature, he was wiry and strong. He had never gone in for athletics. He was a musician, and even now there came the dreamy strains of "La Sere-nade" as he played on his violin to Daisy's sympathetic accompaniment.

Later the music ceased for awhile, and then Pearson's deep bass voice was heard booming forth popular songs.

Dusk was settling down over the sea when Daisy came along the deck quite alone and slipped into her chair with unusual quietness.

"Hal played beautifully, my dear," murmured Mrs. Howard sleepily.

"I suppose so, mother," returned Daisy; then, hesitatingly, she added, "You don't like Mr. Pearson, do you?" "I don't admire him, my dear, but I cannot say that I dislike him," returned Mrs. Howard.

"I like him very much," said Daisy simply.

"Not better than Hal?" demanded Mrs. Howard, throwing caution to the winds.

Daisy hesitated, and that instant's hesitation told Mrs. Howard that the girl's love was wavering between the two men. Which would she choose? There was little doubt, for Daisy was a hero worshiper, and she plainly admired the burly football player.

"Oh, mother," she cried impulsively, "you know I'm fond of Hal, but he's more like a girl, don't you know—quiet and dreamy and fond of simple things. One could not imagine Hal doing anything heroic, now, could one?"

"Some people rather thought it was heroic for Hal to give his cousin Ned three-quarters of their uncle's estate, when the uncle had purposely cut Ned off in a moment of anger; that's an example of moral courage. It was courageous of Hal to submit to a transfusion of blood in an effort to save his brother's life three years ago. In my opinion, Hal Denison is a hero."

"But, mother, dear, that is all very well, but that isn't the sort of courage I mean. There is a certain charm in physical courage, don't you know. Jeopardizing one's life to save that of another. I couldn't imagine Hal doing that."

"How about giving his blood for his brother? He has never been as well since then."

"I know, but the kind of heroism that I mean is born of an impulse, the sort that leaps to stop a runaway horse, that plunges overboard to save a drowning person. Oh, you know!"

Mrs. Howard smiled.

"A spectacular heroism," she said dryly.

"I can't imagine Hal doing anything of that sort," went on Daisy. "He is so deliberate in all his actions. He would want to stop and think the matter over—whether there might not be a safe and sane way of accomplishing the end. Do you know, mother, that Mr. Pearson has saved eight people from drowning in the past ten years?"

"I didn't know it, Daisy, but I am sure it is a very creditable record. Did he tell you of his acts of heroism?"

"Now, Mother Howard!" Daisy laughed rather shamefacedly. "He did tell me, but only because I urged him to do so. I love heroism."

Mrs. Howard arose and prepared to go below.

"Come, dear; we must dress for dinner. Remember, Daisy, that there are more unrecorded heroes in the world's history than otherwise."

And Daisy, still doubting her mother's judgment, went down to dinner quite unconvinced that there could be any lurking heroism in the quiet personality of Hal Denison.

For several days after that there was bad weather, and many of the passengers were compelled to remain in their staterooms. Among these latter were Mrs. Howard and Hal Denison, who declared himself a fair weather sailor.

But Daisy Howard and Ben Pearson braved the inclemency of the weather and the rain swept decks, and each day found them pacing to and fro, discussing a thousand and one topics, but usually swinging back to that most interesting one, absorbing alike to the young man and the girl, the heroic adventures of Mr. Benjamin Pearson.

There came a day when the party landed at the island of Capri to visit the famous grottoes. Somehow Ben Pearson had attached himself to Mrs. Howard's party, and it had become customary now for Ben to escort Daisy Howard on these excursions, while Mrs. Howard and Hal Denison followed in the rear.

Pearson had visited the island the previous year, and he had much to relate of an adventure that befell the party of which he was a member. He told the story modestly enough, but it had the invariable ending. A child had fallen from one of the rocks into a deep, silent pool. He, Pearson, had plunged into the icy depths and restored the child to its mother's arms.

"This is the very spot," said Pearson, pointing before him.

Daisy looked. She glimpsed the dark blue water, still and icy. A glance over her shoulder showed that the other members of the party had gone on to another grotto. Only her mother and Hal Denison were near. Daisy turned her head toward Pearson, and her lips parted in a dazzling smile.

At that moment her foot slipped, and with a little cry of terror she caught herself, stumbled and then plunged down into the icy pool.

As she disappeared Ben Pearson rushed frantically up and down the brink of the pool and roared for help.

Mrs. Howard swooned away, and Hal Denison, tossing aside hat and coat, poised on the edge of the pool and then dived down. When he came up he brought the girl with him, dripping wet and shivering with cold, but quite conscious.

Hal's face was white and stern as he disdained Pearson's hastily offered assistance, and somehow he scrambled upon the rocks and bore Daisy to safety.

His shouts brought the guide and other members of the party, and, having administered restoratives and borrowed a steamer rug from a rheumatic old gentleman, he wrapped Daisy in it and, lifting her easily in his arms, bore her to a fisherman's hut on the shore.

Mrs. Howard, having been restored to consciousness, followed on the arm of one of the men, and soon she was assisting her daughter to dry her garments before a roaring fire in the fisherman's cottage.

Daisy was very pale and silent, and Hal Denison was equally reticent. Mrs. Howard, noticing that Hal was dripping wet and shivering with cold, insisted that they return to the tourist steamer at once, so that the young man might be put under the care of the ship's doctor. As for Daisy, she appeared in her normal health when she was arrayed in the picturesque gala attire of the fisherman's daughter. As for Marta, the slim, dark eyed girl, she wept with delight over the gold pieces which Mrs. Howard had given her in exchange for the garments and declared that they would buy her wedding clothes.

Once on board the Celeste, Mrs. Howard placed Hal in the care of the doctor and was relieved that he would suffer no more than a severe cold as a consequence of his heroic deed.

As for Mr. Ben Pearson, he had quite disappeared from the view of the Howard party, and it was several days afterward that Mrs. Howard espied him gloomily patrolling the deck alone.

Daisy was below in the library, reading to Hal Denison.

"I beg your pardon, Mrs. Howard," he said quite humbly, "but I would like to make an explanation."

"Yes?" asked Mrs. Howard coolly.

"About the other day at the grotto."

"Indeed?"

"I suppose you were quite surprised that I did not jump in and rescue Miss Howard at once. You may have observed that I'm hard hit with Miss Daisy. I think there's no one like her, and I'd like to believe that she owed her life to me. But"—He reddened uncomfortably and looked over the side at the swiftly rushing water.

"But?" prompted Mrs. Howard kindly.

"But, you see, I can't swim a stroke!" he confessed.

"Oh-h-h!" It was Daisy's voice in horrified wonder. She had come up just in time to hear his confession.

"It is true," he said doggedly.

"Then the eight lives you saved that summer—"

"All bunkum!" he interrupted, turning on his heel and walking away.

Daisy's eyes filled with tears. "Mother," she said humbly, "he's not only a coward, but he is a liar as well! I tumbled into the pool to prove to you and Hal that my hero was a hero indeed. But what a poor hero! When I opened my eyes and saw poor Hal's face and felt his arms bearing me out of that icy water I realized that here was my hero, modest and unassuming, but ready when the supreme moment came."

"Where is your hero now, dear?" asked Mrs. Howard quietly.

"Down in the library, mother, waiting. I have promised to be his wife, and he is waiting for your blessing!"

Union Congregational Church Notes.

"Completing the Pilgrim's Task," or "The Greater Partisanship" Everybody honors the Pilgrims who landed on Plymouth Rock, and no less the Puritans who settled in Salem and Newton (now Cambridge). Many people like to claim descent from them. Who are their real descendants? How make the Pilgrim's faith face today's tasks? Rev. Ora A. Price, the newly installed pastor, will speak. Come, worship with us and we will do thee good. Service and worship at 10.30. Sunday will be observed as Tercentenary Sunday, October 15.

Likewise the children of the Church school will be thinking of the Pilgrims. A special Tercentenary service will be conducted. All children of the school are urged to attend. School opens at 12 o'clock.

The Christian Endeavors will soon take up special work and tasks and Sunday evening they will consider their program for the coming months still further. Last Sunday the young people voted to take up a special study of Congregationalism and the early churches of New England established by the Pilgrims and Puritans. All young people are invited to attend. The pastor and prayer meeting committee will work in conjunction as leaders in this study.

A special meeting of the advisory council is called after the morning service.

NORTH WEYMOUTH.

—On Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock the marriage of Miss Christing McIsaac, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael McIsaac of Bay View street, to Edward F. Butler, son of Mrs. Mary Butler of East Weymouth, was solemnized in St. Jerome's church, North Weymouth. Rev. Fr. Riordan officiated and the attendants were Mrs. Anora Joyce, sister of the bride, and Eugene Smith. The bride's dress was of brown silk, trimmed with turquoise blue with hat to match. The matron of honor wore brown silk with orange trimmings. A wedding supper was served at the bride's home after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Butler will reside in East Weymouth after their return from a two weeks wedding trip through New York State.

—Miss Ethel Cain has moved to Boston for the winter to continue her studies at the Emerson School of Oratory. She will spend the week end with her parents.

—Joseph Dunn of Lovell street has recently entered Brighton Seminary to study for the priesthood.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Benkindorf are leaving this week for a winter in Florida. During their absence Mr. Means and family, who have summered at Wessagussett beach, will occupy their home on Pratt avenue.

—Mrs. William Delorey of Bridge street has been quite ill the past week.

—The Ten-of-Us Club spent Wednesday as the guests of Miss Ella Fisher at Fort Point.

—Mrs. L. J. Peterson's father, Mr. Coy, is making his home with her this winter.

—Miss Mary Drown was operated on for appendicitis at the Carney hospital this week and reports are that she is doing nicely.

—Mrs. J. A. Holbrook spent several days the past week as the guest of her son, J. P. Holbrook. She was given a dinner party while there in honor of her 77th birthday anniversary.

School opened again this week and the reputation which North Weymouth has had, of having three cases of infantile paralysis, should be corrected to one case, as the last two developed into something different.

—Mrs. Aaron Sampson passed away Sunday night at her home in Marshfield, very suddenly. She was sitting on the piazza the first part of the afternoon, with her invalid husband, when she was taken ill and fell unconscious and did not regain consciousness. She leaves her husband, who is perfectly helpless. Mr. Sampson is a brother of the late Daniel Sampson of North Weymouth.

—Miss Olga Bailey has been confined to her home with an attack of grip this week.

—M. L. Flynn, commercial representative of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co., has moved, with his family, into Mr. Egan's house on Standish road.

—Mrs. Margaret Rickenell is living with Miss Goodale on Bridge street, for the winter.

—The regular Thursday prayer meeting at the Pilgrim church was omitted on account of the state convention of Sunday Schools being held in Boston.

—A beautiful new picture has been added to the Universalist vestry. The subject is "The Pilgrims going to church. It is a gift of the Sunday School and was bought with the birthday money.

—Mrs. Frank Baker entertained a party of twelve ladies with a luncheon on Friday. The guests came from Brockton, Malden, Wollaston and the Weymouths and consisted of friends of long standing and who meet frequently at each others homes to renew their friendship and enjoy a day together. It was a day to be remembered by all, as no one was absent to mar the occasion.

—Miss Bertha Estes is entertaining a number of young ladies, classmates of B. W. S., at a cottage at Fort Point over the week end.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred French of Malden spent yesterday in town, the guests of Mrs. James B. French.

—James Colgan, Mrs. Colgan and Miss Colgan took a three days' auto trip through Connecticut last week.

—North Weymouth members of the W. R. C., are invited to the home of our president, Ida L. Keene, next Wednesday morning.

—Wilson E. Beane was operated on for gall stones last week at the Peter Bent Brigham hospital and favorable reports are heard from him.

—Mrs. Alexis Torrey has returned to her home with her son, F. H. Torrey, after spending the summer at her cottage on Jerusalem road, Cohasset.

—The North Weymouth Improvement Association will meet in the Engine hall, on Athens street, next Monday evening; when a representative of the Telephone Company will give an illustrated talk on the telephone. Refreshments will be served.

High School Notes.

King's Daughters.

Fourteen circles were represented with 54 delegates at the semi-annual convention for Norfolk County held on the holiday at the Congregational church at East Weymouth, representing the Weymouths, the Braintrees, Quincy, Wollaston, Cohasset, Brookline, Readville, Sharon and other towns. Reports occupied most of the time of the morning session, and in the afternoon the corporation meeting of the Pond Home Association was held. At noon there were 60 at dinner. Solos by Mrs. Mary Fiske Hoffman were appreciated.

Choral Society.

The first meeting of the Weymouth Choral Society was held Monday evening in Clapp Memorial Hall and took the form of a social. Quite a number were present. There were 18 new members. It was an enthusiastic meeting. A program was arranged for the coming season. The first concert to be Jan. 7 in Fogg's Opera House with Lambert Murphy, tenor, and Miss Snelling, contralto, as soloists. It was only with the kind financial assistance of one of our public spirited citizens that it was made possible to engage Mr. Murphy. Many old songs were sung in which all joined. Refreshments of cake and punch were served. Mrs. Adelaide Whitten and Miss May Chessman served the punch. The affair was in charge of the membership committee, Mrs. Anna Bates Garey as chairman. All are looking forward to a successful season.

WEYMOUTH AS A PORT

State Makes Large Taking on River

Weymouth is soon to become an important deep sea port, as Gov. McCall and the executive council yesterday approved the action of the new waterways commission in taking a vast tract of land on both sides of Hayward's creek at Quincy and Braintree to provide for important development of shipping facilities for all the manufacturing towns along that section of the South Shore. The creek, which empties into Fore River, will be developed for water freight service.

The first direct result will be that the Fore River Ship Building Corporation at Quincy will lease for a long term of years a large tract of the land which the Commonwealth is about to acquire, and will start at once construction of a great addition to its plant. It will spend several million dollars on this project, and will employ between 4000 and 5000 additional workmen. The company will be able to quote figures on the big naval program of the United States government, which includes construction of several of the greatest fighting machines of modern times. Bids for these battleships and other craft must be submitted next Wednesday.

Planning Board.

Much valuable information in regard to sewerage and the disposal of it was gathered at a meeting of the Planning Board, held on Tuesday evening at the town office. E. S. Dorr, for 30 years connected with the Boston sewerage department, was a guest of the evening, and enlightened those present in regard to ways, means and expense of disposal of sewerage. Mr. Dorr thought that if an emergency existed which required early action, Weymouth's most feasible plan would be to enter the Metropolitan system, but in the present condition of affairs a "waiting policy" would be advisable, as new processes for the disposal of sewerage, by which products of oil, grease and fertilizers will be produced, which products will pay all the expense of running the system.

Plead for Armenians.

Editor of the Gazette:
Cruelties which have no parallel in the world's history have left with indescribable sufferings hundreds of thousands of Armenian women and children on the brink of death.

The condition of the sufferers is grave enough to necessitate the issue of a proclamation by President Wilson to raise a relief fund, on the 21st and 22nd of October. Every one with a human heart should help.

Those who will not take part in the contributions to be taken in the churches could send their offering to W. M. Tirrell, East Weymouth.

APPLES PROFITABLE

How true the comments of an exchange. Weymouth estates with apple trees should heed the advice:

What a pity it is that thousands of barrels of apples rot every year under the trees of New England orchards, when the people of cities not far away are paying high prices for apples! The man who raises apples on a large scale finds the business profitable, but the farmer whose orchard is only an incidental adjunct to his farm usually believes that there is "no money" in orcharding. That is because of the expense of picking, packing and shipping. It is therefore encouraging to see that a real effort to establish co-operation in marketing apples from small New England orchards has begun. It is only co-operation that will give the small orchardist a chance at some such profit as the large orchardist has been making. A Boston paper tells of a group of fourteen farmers near the little village of Williamsburg, Massachusetts, who tried co-operation this year under the advice of the Hampden County agent. After paying all the costs of sorting, packing, storage, the salary of the manager and all overhead expenses, on an average of one hundred barrels to an orchard, they cleared in profits nearly three thousand dollars. Anyone who knows much about small farming knows that the fourteen men, working in the usual way, could never have cleared anything like that sum, if indeed they could have made a cent. What is true of apple orchards is true of almost every branch of small farming.

THE ELECTION.

The great National and State election is now only about two weeks from us, and for a presidential campaign there is far from the usual stir and commotion in our immediate vicinity. It is generally conceded that Hughes for President, McCall for Governor, and Lodge for the United States Senate, will each and all go through with good majorities in Massachusetts. Some of the other contests are uncertain.

A MERCHANT WITH COURAGE.

The "One-Cent Sale" of the Kempl Drug Store takes so much space to-day that some news is unavoidably crowded out. But the page ad makes interesting reading, and offers unusual opportunities. Mr. Kempl has found too, that advertising in the Gazette-Transcript pays, Weymouth needs more merchants with the courage of Mr. Kempl.

THREE-CORNERED CONTEST.

So the regular Republican nominee for the Senate is to have an independent rival. When the verdict of the primaries was so emphatic for Kenneth L. Nash of this town, it does not seem as if anyone would care to make a contest with him on election day. The district is usually strongly republican.

Cataract Disease Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the eye. There is only one way to cure cataract disease, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Cataract disease is caused by an increased condition of the mucous lining of the eye. When this film is increased, it has a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, blindness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this film removed to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cataract diseases are caused by cataract, which is an increased condition of the mucous lining of the eye. Cataract disease can be cured by the use of the mucous lining of the eye.

TO THE HONORABLE THE BOARD OF SELECTMEN OF THE TOWN OF WEYMOUTH:

Respectfully represents the BAY STATE STREET RAILWAY COMPANY:

That it owns and operates street railway tracks in the Town of Weymouth, and that public necessity and convenience require certain alterations, relocations and extension thereof.

WHEREFORE, your petitioner, as such Street Railway Company, prays for alterations, relocations and extension of its tracks in said Weymouth, to wit:

Relocation of track in Front Street, from Nash's Corner to a point 900 feet North of Winter Street, and extension of turnout in said Front Street;

Relocation of track in Columbian Street, from Columbian Square to Main Street.

Together with such switches, curves and cross connections as may be necessary or convenient for operation of the cars of said Company, all substantially as shown on plans to be filed with this petition; and that it be granted the right to operate said tracks with electricity as the motive power, and to make all necessary changes in poles, wires and other appliances connected therewith; also to act as a common carrier of newspapers, baggage, express matter and freight upon the above petitioned for extension and relocations of tracks.

BAY STATE STREET RAILWAY CO.
By F. F. Sullivan, President.

Party-Line Consideration

A party line is a single circuit from the premises of more than one person to the central office, technically connected so that more than one subscriber may obtain service over that circuit used in common.

A party line is not reserved for a single user any more than an entrance to an apartment house is like the entrance to a private residence.

On a 4-party line, it is possible for all four stations to try to talk out on the same circuit at the same time. There is also the liability of all four stations being wanted at the same time to receive incoming calls on the single circuit.

Therefore, there are special considerations which a party line user should keep in mind:

1. Long conversations prevent the use of the line by other subscribers; therefore party line talks should be as brief as possible.
2. Whenever another party line subscriber requests the use of that line for an emergency, courtesy should prompt the first user temporarily to give up the use of the line.
3. Whenever a party line subscriber takes the receiver from the hook and finds the line in use, the receiver should be replaced at once in a careful manner; when a party line receiver is left off the hook, the transmission is considerably reduced.
4. At the end of a conversation the receiver should be replaced upon the hook immediately, otherwise the other subscriber cannot signal the central office.

AND the one who is calling a party line number should remember that when the operator reports "the line is busy," she means that any one of the stations is being used.

Weymouth 19; Quincy 6.

Weymouth High continued her winning streak Friday by defeating Quincy High in one of the hottest contests ever staged on the Clapp Memorial field, score 19 to 6.

This was Weymouth's first game in the South Shore league, the result of which ties her for first place with Brockton.

Both teams showed excellent defensive work, but Weymouth was a little superior on the offensive.

The first touchdown scored by Captain Curtin of Weymouth, in the first quarter, LeCain scored Quincy's only touchdown.

During the last quarter Quincy made some good gains by forward passes. They got the ball as far as the ten-yard line and then lost it. With wonderful interference Richardson carried the ball for a 70-yard center run and a touchdown. Curtin kicked the goal.

Art Exhibition.

"The Great War in Europe" is the subject of the pictures now exhibited in the reading room, at Tufts Library. These consist of large pictures of the war from the best illustrated papers, beginning with the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife, June 28, to November, 1914. They will remain until Nov. 6.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING

Selectmen Have Called One For Last of Month

The Monday meeting of the Selectmen arranged for a special town meeting to be held in Odd Fellows' Opera House, Monday evening, Oct. 30. The several articles are as follows: Action in regard to the purchase of a road building roller of the Buffalo Pitts Machine Co., now on demonstration in town. For this it is proposed to take $1,000 from any available fund and give a note for $3,200 payable April 1, 1917. The next article asks the Appropriation Committee to transfer $1,000 from the reserve fund to the snow account, as all the snow money was exhausted last spring and there is nothing to meet the demands of the first snow, which is liable to land at any time. The next article proposes to transfer $1,500 of any available money to the road account, and finally to take $600 of similar money to the Board of Health department.

At the meeting of the Selectmen on Monday permit was granted Frank T. Blanchard to move a building from Birch Brown road to Pearl street, via Bartlett and Bridge Street.

The Sherman Detective Agency asks for the opportunity of using some of their force for the purpose of ferreting out robbers and incendiaries in Weymouth.

The State Forester asks the Selectmen to join in trying for legislation which will put local moth departments and tree wardens under one management.

There is much complaint by Engineer Whiting and Street Superintendent Johnson of tampering with stakes and markers, indicating street and other boundary lines, and any one detected in so doing will be prosecuted.

A hearing will be held at the Selectmen's office this evening on the petition of the Bay State Street Railway for permit to relocate tracks on Columbian, Pleasant and Pond streets.

The Weymouth Heights Improvement society asked for 150 feet of concrete sidewalk on Church street, west of the church, and the same will be constructed from the Tufts fund as per provision of the Tufts will.

Permit was granted by the board to Alfred F. Tirrell of Main street to store gasoline.

—Anna T. Davis, who has lived at North Weymouth and Quincy, has sued her husband, Morgan L. Davis of Brooklyn, N. Y., for a divorce, for desertion.

Two Adamson Boys Sent Away

A remarkable series of robberies have come to light in the apprehension of two boys at South Weymouth. The police allege that Charles Adamson, aged 10 years, and his brother, Arthur, aged 12, have confessed to taking articles valued at nearly $1000. They were arraigned in the district court, Monday, before Judge Avery. Their cases were continued that they may assist the police in recovering the remainder of the stolen property valued at several hundred dollars.

Directly after the continuances of the cases the youngsters left the court, and in company with Chief of Police Pratt and Patrolman Ford, entered an automobile and departed on a hunt for the missing property.

The first stop was at a cache in the woods off Pond street, South Weymouth where two harnesses that they had stolen were found hidden in the bushes. From there the lads directed the police to proceed to the carriage sheds behind the Union Congregational church, Columbian square, where a democrat wagon, the property of A. L. Sadler of Norfolk Downs, was recovered. The boys said that one day last week they led a horse, owned by Patrolman Thomas Kendrick of Rockland, from a pasture to South Quincy. There they stole a harness, and hitching the horse to a buggy, owned by John Anthony, they drove to Quincy, where they chanced to see a democrat wagon standing in front of Sadler's blacksmith shop.

They exchanged vehicles, driving around town until tired. Then they left Sadler's wagon in the church sheds and turned the horse loose. During the ride, and while they were in court the youngsters laughed frequently, seeming in no wise disturbed by their arrests. Charles, the younger brother, even boasted of his nerve being superior to that of Arthur. Arthur "got afraid lots of times," he said. He stated that when they were robbing Walton's market he was nearly caught by Patrolman Ford, and that he escaped by jumping from a window.

So far the police have recovered, in addition to the horse, three sets of harnesses, two bicycles, several horse blankets, tobacco, gum, groceries and various other articles, as well as money, which were taken by the youngsters. Further search will be made.

The boys have been committed to the Lyman school.

Mrs. Ellen Trask.

Mrs. Ellen Trask, widow of Zelotus Trask, passes away Friday at the home of a son, Charles B. Trask of Summit street, at the age of 92. Born in the city of Cork, Ireland, Mrs. Trask came to Weymouth 68 years ago, and was married in Boston in 1853, there being no Catholic church in Weymouth at that time. She has since resided in this town, the past two years with her son Charles, who, aided by his wife and children did all possible to lessen the sufferings caused by the infirmities of old age. Her death was the result of a shock received two weeks previous. Mrs. Trask is survived by six children, Joseph A., of Milford, Mrs. Herbert N. Pratt of Rockland, William H. and Charles B. of this town, Mrs. James Birmingham of Milford, and Mrs. Abbie Sullivan of Quincy.

The funeral was held Monday morning from her late home, and there was a high mass requiem in the Church of the Sacred Heart at 9:30, with Rev. John B. Holland, rector, celebrant. Music by the church choir, with Mrs. John W. Hanley organist, was provided. Interment was at the St. Francis Xavier cemetery. The bearers were six grandchildren, Patrick Coleman, William J. Trask, James Birmingham, Jr., Harold Trask and George Sullivan.

Miss Katherine Ogan has gone to Brooklyn, N. Y., where she has taken a position for the winter.

Bay State Street Railway Company

October 16, 1916.
Massachusetts Highway Commission,
State House, Boston, Mass.
GENTLEMEN: Your petition, the Bay State Street Railway Company, respectfully ask permission to alter and relocate its present tracks and extend a turnout on Main Street, Weymouth, from Columbian Street to Nash's Corner, on the 1904 and 1907 State Highway layouts, together with the changes of poles incident thereto, all as shown on plan of Maintenance of Way Department, numbered 10-360, dated October 14, 1916, to be filed with this petition.
Respectfully yours,
BAY STATE STREET RAILWAY COMPANY,
By P. F. Sullivan, President.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
In Board of Massachusetts Highway Commission,

ORDER OF NOTICE.

Upon the foregoing petition, it is ordered that 2:30 o'clock P. M., the eighth day of November, 1916, and the office of the Massachusetts Highway Commission, Room 212, State House, Boston, be fixed as the time and place at which the Massachusetts Highway Commission will consider said petition; and that notice be given by the petitioner to all parties interested that said Commission will consider such petition at the time and place aforesaid, by publishing in the Weymouth Gazette and Transcript, a newspaper published in the town of Weymouth, a true copy of said petition, with this order thereon, at least fourteen days before the said eighth day of November, 1916, that all parties interested may then and there show cause, if any, why said petition should not be granted.

For the Massachusetts Highway Commission,
F. I. BULLER, Secretary.
A true copy of petition and order of notice thereon.
Attest: M. A. Riley, Recording Secretary.

NORTH WEYMOUTH.

The Village Improvement Society passed a pleasant and profitable evening on Monday. A good lunch is a pleasure to most men and on this occasion the President, Henry A. Day, "came across" with a menu which was endorsed by members and guests. The evening's entertainment was an illustrated lecture "Telephoning" with Michael Flynn, commercial representative of the New England Tel. & Tel. Co., as the speaker. The topic was made quite interesting and the people gathered some useful knowledge.

The prayer meetings this week were held as follows: Monday evening, block 1, at the home of Mr. Patterson on Lovell street; Block 2, at the home of Mr. White on Bay View street. On Wednesday evening, block 1 at the home of Hiram Nadell, and block 2 at John Stitts, 91 Bridge street.

Rev. Charles Clark and A. J. Sidelinger, members of the installing council, attended the installing exercises of Rev. Thomas C. Richards of the Bethany church, Quincy.

On Monday evening three of the older group of Boy Scouts from Troop 5 were initiated into the Phi Alpha Pi of Norfolk County Y. M. C. A. The installing officers were from Norwood.

Mrs. W. A. Drake has been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Horne of Norwood, Me., Dr. and Mrs. Ham of Brookline and Miss Alice Ham of Boston.

Rev. Fred S. Walker of Portland, Me., will occupy the pulpit at the Universalist church on Sunday.

Box 17 was rung in last Saturday evening, but there was no fire. One of those strange happenings which occur every so often. The glass had not been replaced since the last fire, so that made it an extra temptation.

The fire Monday, was a barn on Parrell street, Fort Point.

Geo. Webber, Donald Francis and Albion Johnson will spend to-morrow and Sunday as delegates to the Phi Alpha Pi convention in Canton.

Next Monday evening the Boy Scouts of Troop 5 will hold the first meeting of the season, Thompson Burtiss, assistant secretary of county Y. M. C. A. in charge. Albion Johnson is assistant scout master.

Mrs. Charles Clark has the sympathy of her friends in the loss of her father, Thomas Elliot of Ashby, who died last week.

Mr. Isaac Curtis of Sunapee, N. H., and Mrs. H. O. Lund, of Cheshire, Conn., have been the guests this week of their nieces, Mrs. E. R. Sampson and Mrs. J. P. Holbrook.

Rev. Melvin S. Nash of Hanover, a former pastor at the Third Universalist church, was operated on at the Homeopathic hospital in Boston last week, and his many friends are pleased to learn of his comfortable condition. Mr. and Mrs. Nash have taken an apartment at Garrison Hall for the winter.

Miss Bertha Dunbar spent the week end with friends in Grafton.

Mrs. J. Fred Miller is spending the week with her brother in Wellesley.

Mrs. E. F. Beals left Monday for a month's visit with friends in Milwaukee, Wis.

Mrs. Ida Keene, president of W. R. C., No. 102, entertained the North Weymouth members at her home on Pearl street Wednesday. Knitting quilts was the main occupation of the day.

The Universalist Men's Club will hold its September meeting next Monday evening with supper served by a committee of ladies at 6:45. Rev. Fred A. Line of South Weymouth will be the speaker of the evening.

Wilson E. Bean is at home again and rapidly recovering from his recent operation.

R. S. Gilmore has given up the rooms on Sea street which he has used several years as workshop and will move out Nov. 1.

Mrs. Wilbur Swan has been spending a week with Brockton friends.

Rev. Arthur Sargent of Rockland occupied the pulpit at the Third Universalist church on Sunday.

Rev. Chas. Clark of the Pilgrim Church and Rev. E. T. Ford of the East Weymouth Congregational church exchanged pastorates on Sunday.

Joe Whall drove a party of ladies, delegates from the Ladies Auxiliary to the Sons of Veterans, to Marshfield on Monday evening when they attended the reception given to Miss Lottie Ford, the division president of the Ladies Auxiliary.

Mrs. L. B. Curtis and Miss Lillian Curtis motored to Milford on Wednesday to visit relatives for a week.

Mrs. John W. Bartlett spent last Thursday at the home of her son, A. W. Bartlett, on Lovell street.

The little McAllister child, North Weymouth's only victim of infantile paralysis, was brought home on Sunday. Medical advice says that an operation is the only thing which will enable the child to walk.

Firemen's Muster.

The Active and Defender tubs of Weymouth took part in the hand engine muster at Quincy on the holiday, but ended near the bottom of the list of eleven. Prizes were taken in this order: Germania of Chelsea, Cochato of West Quincy, Union of East Braintree, Protection of Holbrook and Washington of Holbrook.

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS:

NOTICE is hereby given that the annual Meeting of the Stockholders of The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company will be held in Harmonic Hall, No 9 Elm Street, in the City of New Haven, Connecticut, on Wednesday, the 25th day of October, 1916, at 12.00 o'clock noon, for the following purposes:

1. To consider and take appropriate action upon the Annual Statement and all acts described therein or reported at said meeting.
2. To authorize an issue of not to exceed $700,000 face value seven-year five per cent. gold debentures containing an agreement that if any mortgage is hereafter placed upon the property of this corporation these debentures will be equally secured thereby with any other indebtedness of the corporation, and also an agreement to call, by lot, and pay $100,000 of these debentures each year until all are paid, the proceeds from the sale of such debentures to be used for the construction of a new terminal passenger station and appurtenances in the City of New Haven, Connecticut.
3. To elect a board of directors for the ensuing year.
4. To transact any other business which may properly come before said meeting.

For the purpose of this meeting the transfer books of the Company will be closed from October 11th, 1916, to October 25th, 1916 both days inclusive.

By order of the Board of Directors,
ARTHUR E. CLARK, Secretary

LOVELL'S CORNER

—Mr. and Mrs. Russell Poole have returned from a trip to New York city.

—Miss Helen White has been visiting her sister at Somerville.

—Sunday evening at the Porter church, Mrs. Charles White, Mrs. Lilla French, Miss Nellie Holbrook, Mrs. Lotz and Rev. P. H. Lotz gave reports from the Sunday School convention held in Boston last week.

—Miss Dorothy Rea entertained Miss Ruth Hammond of Whitman over the week end.

—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fish have returned to their home in Rockland after spending the last two weeks with Mrs. Fish's parents.

—Miss Rachel Hawes spent Sunday with friends in West Bridgewater.

—Monday evening the neighborhood prayer meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Maynard.

Monday Club.

The vice-president, Mrs. Edwin R. Sampson, presided at the second meeting of the Monday Club of Weymouth, held in Masonic hall, on the afternoon of October sixteenth. There are 250 members of the club at present, with a waiting list. Mrs. Adelaide Whitten sang a charming group of songs, accompanied by Mrs. John B. Merrill.

A report of the State Federation of Women's Clubs at Lynn, written by Miss Lillian F. Curtiss, was read by Mrs. Sampson; and a report of the General Federation in New York, written by the president, Mrs. Jennie B. Worster, was read by Mrs. J. Herbert Walsh. Following these reports, Rev. Fred R. Line of South Weymouth read a very interesting and instructive paper on Current Events. The afternoon was in charge of Mrs. Frank A. Pray.

Old Colony Club.

The opening meeting of the Old Colony Woman's Club was held Thursday afternoon in the Second Universalist church, Miss Marion Tirrell presiding. Miss Rose Walsh gave a very interesting reading of Clyde Fitch's drama entitled "The Truth." Following the meeting there was a social hour, with Miss Sarah Tirrell as the hostess.

Club Notes.

A President's conference was held Monday afternoon at the Dorchester club house where all the presidents of the State were guests of the Dorchester Woman's Club. It was a very interesting and important meeting. The State Board of Officers feel that it is necessary that all clubs know the work they are planning, and should also know all the conditions financial and otherwise attending their work. Weymouth was well represented: Miss Marion Tirrell, Mrs. Fred Bauer and Mrs. Prescott, were from South Weymouth; and Mrs. James H. Flint, Mrs. Jennie B. Worster and Mrs. Ella C. Richards from Weymouth. Many things were talked over and plans made. A dainty lunch was served.

Joseph C. Lincoln the writer of interesting books is to lecture under the auspices of the Quincy Woman's club in High School hall, Quincy Nov. 4, at 8 P. M. Mrs. Jennie B. Worster has tickets for same if desired.

Reynolds Relief Corps.

The annual Red Letter Day of W. R. C. 102, has become one of the most interesting events of the year, and that of the current year which is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 26, promises much enjoyment to members and guests.

There will be a 6 o'clock banquet, reception to Department President, Mrs. Annie Poole Atwood, and suite. Reception to the Corp President, Mrs. Ida L. Keene, and an evening program of speaking, music and recitations.

October Price, $4.75

In the fall of the year when you want heat, you want it quickly. It does not pay to wait till the furnace gets heated up, because by that time you do not need it and then it is too hot and up go the windows. The remedy is the use of ELECTRICITY for heating.

Heat comes at once, continues as long as needed, and ceases when you push the button or turn the key at the lamp socket.

Don't put off your purchase until the cold snap comes, but buy an electric radiator and be prepared.

Soap made at home with Hudson Lye will cost you less than two cents a pound. A big 10c can of this Lye, added to your meat fats, will make six pounds of pure white soap, good for cleansing, disinfecting and general household use, and the soap you make at home with Hudson Lye will be purer because it will contain no cheap fillers like rosin which you will find in most factory soaps.

Another point you want to note is this, that soap made with

WEYMOUTH THE HOME TOWN

Big Possibilities Before The Year 1930

On the Cars, St. Louis, Mo., September 30, 1930.

Editor "Quickville Pioneer,"

Dear Old Pal:

At last I have written down, as well as my poor memory and a few brief notes will permit, the account Alexander Landerhand gave me of the great change and development in Weymouth, Mass. I wish I could embody the animation the aged man displayed, and his pleasure and pride in being a citizen of the town. I call the story "How Weymouth Became the Home Town."

About fifty years ago two young men living in one of the villages of Weymouth, often travelled together on their way to and from their daily tasks.

They noted the unattractive and in some cases unwholesome features of certain houses and public places in the village as compared with the neatness and beauty of others. It seemed to them the condition was chiefly due to carelessness, neglect, and the lack of public spirit. They heard of a movement for village improvement in western Massachusetts that was highly successful and inquired into it. Then they considered how a similar movement might be introduced into their own village, with the result that they wrote a call for a public meeting to discuss the desirability of organizing "for the purpose of cultivating more public spirit in matters that concern the best interests of this village." To this they secured, in a few days, the signatures of 76 influential citizens of the village, old and young, rich and poor, without regard to political, religious or racial distinction. Some signed because they believed it was a good move; some because they believed it might do a little good, some because they liked the earnest enthusiasm of the young men, and some because it was easier to sign than to refuse. A very few who were called upon took no interest whatever in the movement.

A date was set, the largest hall in the village engaged, and Hon. B. G. Northrup, at that time the apostle of village improvement, was secured to address the meeting. It was decided to call another meeting for the purpose of organizing an improvement association, and to encourage all interested people to attend.

The association was formed along broad lines. Any resident of the village over 18 years of age became an active member on the payment of $1. There was no other assessment, and no debt to be incurred beyond the immediate resources of the treasury. The objects of the association were six, the first being "to awaken and encourage in the community a sentiment which will act for the common interest," and the sixth "to increase its attractiveness as a place of residence."

The association started with over one hundred members, and several years later there was a published list of 155 members. It still flourishes and will probably celebrate its fiftieth anniversary in a year or two. Its objects have been literally fulfilled. Thousands of dollars have been expended directly and indirectly through its influence. The young men who started it, and who were considered somewhat Utopian by many, lived to see their village more than realized within 50 years. For many years now the village has enjoyed the reputation of being the most attractive in that part of the State. Without the improvement association it is highly improbable that it could have come to this distinction.

Similar associations under various names, spring up in the other villages of the town, some of which flourished only a short time, while others continued and are still doing good work. It is noticeable that whenever the highest success has been achieved it has been due to strict adherence to the following fundamental principles:

First—The equal right of every citizen to respectful recognition, courteous treatment, freedom of opinion, and neighborly encouragement.

Second—The presumption that every resident desires to promote the welfare of the community as far as he can, and in the way he can, and to co-operate with others.

Third—An open forum for the expression of opinion, with due regard to the rights of all.

Fourth—Kindness to all, subservience to none.

Fifth—The adoption of plans only after full and deliberate consideration.

Sixth—Constant watchfulness for opportunities and means of improvement.

Untold credit is also due to those association secretaries, who, in addition to their duties as recorders, have kept the business of the meetings arranged for orderly presentation and have faithfully notified committees of their duties and meetings.

Weymouth, the Home Town

With the encouraging influence of these associations thousands of shade trees have been set out, unsightly fences and buildings removed or improved, streets, squares, schoolhouses and yards and other public grounds and buildings, beautified, waterworks and street lights introduced, public spirit and confidence developed, social conditions uplifted, the attractiveness and ownership of houses promoted, co-operative banks organized, free postal delivery established, railroad facilities improved, cemetery associations imbued with new life, and many projects favorably considered by the town.

With the opening of the present century several serious problems began to confront the town. The valuation of property needed thorough revision. Population was beginning to increase more rapidly and town expenses were increasing accordingly. Increased and improved school accommodations were demanded. The industries of the town were not keeping pace with the population. Town accounts were becoming more complicated. The action taken in crowded and sometimes overcrowded town meetings was becoming more and more ill-considered and wasteful. Sewage disposal was causing much trouble and forbidding. Real estate "developers" were exploiting several parts of the town.

For a number of years the policy of the town, as far as there was any, seemed to be to take up these questions tentatively and to postpone thorough consideration to the emergencies of the future. A committee on appropriations rendered great assistance in the town meetings, but the burden of its work was to keep appropriations at a minimum, and this was sometimes a hindrance to needed development.

A superintendent of streets, a town accountant and a chief of police were appointed with their discretionary power too limited. A board of trade was formed and did good work in its special field of manufactures and transportation, and incidentally in other directions affecting the increase of business.

Later on a planning board was elected in accordance with State law and served well, chiefly in the line of expert advice as to economy of public works and the character and location of buildings.

A re-survey and re-valuation of real estate was made about the same time, which added much to the valuation of the town, and seemed to be justified, although the method pursued was severely assailed and a different system was soon called for.

During this period the "will of the people" more and more appeared to be manipulated and controlled, and sometimes to be thwarted, by those who had special ends in view.

With little to hinder, the drift of the town thus seemed to be helplessly toward a city charter—that base of government "by the people, for the people."

Then it began to be noticed that the freest and fairest discussion of town interests was taking place in the meetings of the village improvement association and that the decisions of the association were likely to be adopted by the town.

The younger men were becoming interested in these associations and they added much energy and enterprise. It soon became apparent that these associations ought to become affiliated and united for the benefit of the whole town. Young men started the movement by proposing the organization, or reorganization of an improvement association in each village of the town on a uniform plan, and with provisions for connection with a central or united association. This was accomplished and the United Improvement association was organized, as was explained in a previous letter.

Whenever desirable the village association referred questions to the United Association, and the United Association to the village associations, and questions requiring the action of the town were duly presented in town meetings. With firm conviction that safety lay in the councils of the whole people, all the improvement associations made it their business to keep the people fully informed through the local press concerning matters of public interest and of their action thereon. There was no hesitation in deliberating upon any question affecting the interests of the town, and when the United Association reached a decision there was little difficulty in securing its adoption by the town. The great problems confronting the town were studied with the utmost care, and acceptable plans were gradually evolved for their solution. A system of drainage and sewerage was worked out and introduced. A rational and financially sound method of determining valuations was established. It was found that owners of large estates would be more willing to be assessed on the same basis as the owners of small estates, if all were treated alike and equitably, and some large owners discovered that their business rating was favorably affected thereby. This movement resulted in a large increase in the valuation of personal estates, in the gradual lowering of the tax rates, and in the settlement of more people of means in the town.

A policy of encouraging industries that were more interested in the welfare of employees than in the remittance of taxes was adopted with gratifying results.

The town departments have become more clearly defined as to their powers and duties, have co-ordinated their action to promote unity of action, and to check improper action, and as far as possible have been re-organized upon a civil service basis. Some needed legislation has been secured, including provisions for improvement association as an important branch of town government.

The attractiveness of streets, public buildings and residences and the public spirit of the people brought about by the improvement associations, combined with interesting geographical features and the proximity of the town to Boston, Quincy, and Brockton, made Weymouth especially desirable as a place of residence. This fact was soon recognized and the improvement associations quickly pushed the idea and advertised far and wide, "Weymouth, the Home Town."

This year 1916 finds the town united and flourishing as never before, the government strong, helpful and yet conservative, the citizens alert, informed, enjoying the right of a free people to express and enforce their will, and living in typical American homes.

Mr. Lenderhand concluded his account with these words:

"Observation and experience teach me that the enjoyment of our American liberty is measured by the active loyalty of the individual to the best interests of his home and his community."

As long as I can

I will live a free man

And love my Weymouth,

The Home Town."

Any further comment by me seems unnecessary.

Yours for good,
Ebenzer Getback.

Yourell—Sullivan.

A wedding of much interest to many of our people took place on Wednesday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock in the Church of the Immaculate Conception, the contracting parties being Miss Kathryn Yourell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Yourell of 1063 Pleasant street, East Weymouth and Mr. Timothy J. Sullivan of Utica, N. Y. Rev. Cornelius I. Riordan united the couple who were attended by Dr. Joseph McCauley of Dorchester and Miss Emily Yourell, a sister of the bride.

The bride was attired in white satin with Irish point lace trimmings and wore a veil held in place by orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore blue silk with lace trimmings and picture hat to match. She carried a bouquet of roses.

A reception was given at the home of the bride's parents from 5 to 10, where the bride's parents and the groom's sister, Mrs. Joseph McCauley assisted in receiving.

A wedding dinner was served by a caterer. Cut flowers were prominent throughout the house. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan left on a wedding tour through New York State and will make their home at 1010 West street, Utica, N. Y.

Noonan-Daley.

A pretty wedding took place at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Susie Daley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Daley, became the bride of Edward Noonan. The edifice was filled with the friends of the couple. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Holland, pastor of the church. Miss Charlotte Noonan of Scituate, a sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and the bride's brother, John H. Daley, was best man. The bride was attired in a costume of white silk and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid wore blue silk and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

A reception and wedding dinner followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, 19 Foye avenue. The ushers were William H. Donovan, Joseph Crehan, Harold Trask and William Loneragan. The couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Noonan left after the reception on their wedding trip and on their return will reside at 78 Front street. Both the young people are well known and popular in social circles, the bride having taken part in amateur theatricals in this and other towns, and the groom is chauffeur for Judge James H. Flint of the Norfolk County probate court.

Bates—Welch.

Robert Welch of Grant street, East Weymouth, and Miss Alice Bates of Holbrook were united in marriage on Wednesday evening in the Church of the Immaculate Conception. Rev. C. I. Riordan performed the ceremony. Mrs. Hazel Bates was matron of honor and Stephen Welch was best man. The bride was dressed in a travelling suit and the young couple left on a wedding trip to New York City, at the conclusion of which they will reside at 56 Hill Street, East Weymouth.

RED LETTER DAY

W. R. C. Reception to the Department President

Including the four color bearers and Mrs. Ida L. Keene, the president, there were 25 in the reception line in the observance of Red Letter day by Reynolds Relief Corps No. 102 last evening. It was the 23rd anniversary of the organization. Among the guests in line were: Mrs. Annie Poole Atwood of Whitman Department President; Mrs. Flora Chapin of Worcester, Department Junior Vice President; Mrs. Ella F. Long of Hyde Park, inspecting and installing officer; Mrs. Rose Keenan Coy, of Stoneham, Department Patriotic Instructor; Mrs. Nellie F. Libbey of Lynn, National Senior Aide; Mrs. Carrie F. Loring of Braintree, a past president and also on the Department Executive Board; Phillip A. Nordell of Brookline, Assistant Adjutant General of the Department of Massachusetts, G. A. R.; Mrs. Mary E. Holbrook of Somerville, a past president and also Past Department President; Mrs. Mabel H. Smith of Brighton, Department Press Correspondent; Mrs. Sara Cain, a past president; Mrs. Agnes F. Baldwin, a past president; Mrs. Emmeline Vining, a past president; Mrs. Junie B. Morrill, a past president; Comrade Andrew Culley, a past Commander of Post 58; Commander Leonard W. Cain of Post 58; Mrs. Leonard W. Cain; Elmer E. Lunt of the S. of V.; Mrs. Alice Lunt of the Auxiliary of the S. of V.; Mrs. Josie Culley, of the Daughters of Veterans; Henry A. Bailey, District Inspector of United Spanish War Veterans; and Mrs. Mary R. Flint. Among the guests were members of the Grand Army and other patriotic orders, and Editor Prescott of the Gazette and Transcript.

The regular meeting of the corps was held in the afternoon which was attended by the department officials, several of whom addressed the meeting. At 6 o'clock a banquet was served in the dining room which was largely attended. The corps had provided liberally and the menu included sliced ham, potato salad, rolls, pies in great variety, ice cream and cake, tea and coffee. The blessing was asked by Assistant Adjutant General Nordell.

Mrs. Charlotte B. Stoddard was chairman of the supper committee and was assisted by Mrs. Harriet Litchfield, Mrs. Isabelle Woolaver, Mrs. Lizzie Burr, Mrs. Maria Richards, Mrs. Jennie Callahan, Mrs. Lizzie Turner, Mrs. Mary White, Mrs. Nellie Pratt, Mrs. Annie Vogel, Mrs. Sadie Wolfe and Mrs. Marion Thayer.

Mrs. Stoddard was also chairman of the reception committee, being assisted by Mrs. Isabelle Woolaver and Mrs. Sadie Wolfe.

After the reception came an entertainment which included solos and trios by Thomas Cassidy, violin; Henry Cleary, piano, and Leo Cushing, trombone; a historical address by Mrs. Keene the president, and addresses by several of the Department officials and other guests. Mrs. Keene had a tribute for each of the fourteen presidents of the Corps, viz: Mrs. Marian Hastings, Mrs. Sarah Cain, Mrs. Mary Holbrook, Mrs. Margaret Culley, Mrs. Flora Bicknell, Mrs. Helen C. Cushing, Mrs. Junie B. Morrill, Mrs. Addie W. Raymond, Mrs. Emmeline Vining, Mrs. Carrie F. Loring, Mrs. Mary Mahoney, and Mrs. Annie Jordan, which bring the list down to the present popular president Mrs. Keene.

New Contracts At Shipyard

Will Probably Build Two Battleships

It is probable that the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation will get two of the big battleships to build, says the Washington correspondent of the Herald.

Bids for the four new battleships, Colorado, Maryland, Washington and West Virginia, were opened Thursday at the navy department. While all the tenders show the heavy increase in prices due to the abnormal condition of the shipbuilding industry, they were within the department's limit of cost, and it is virtually certain all four ships will be awarded to private concerns, and that the government itself will not construct any of these craft or the 20 destroyers for which offers were also received.

Prices for the battleships quoted ranged from $10,000,000 to $11,475,000, against the department's limit for hull and machinery of $11,500,000. A study of the bids is now in progress and awards will be made only after careful review of the modifications proposed by every bidder has been made.

Wayside Chat.

Editor Gazette and Transcript:

Is it good business for a town that has a water front to own and control the water front? Reading last week of a large taking on the Weymouth River by the State, made us think of lost opportunity which might have been small mint, and that is the Chandler Farm or what is now known as Idlewell.

What should have gone to public use has gone to private water front yards. Good thing has slipped away. The still left the Webb estate with a water frontage and it is on the market. Will this, also go the same way as the Chandler Farm?

How much of our water front does the town own? Have we a public landing? Are we not large enough to own a public landing?

Another man says: "Who owns the meadow between Washington square and the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.? Wouldn't it be a good idea for someone to fill it in, put a street across it, making a circuit to the depot and open up good building lots on both sides for stores and offices? Looks like a good thing, but is the opportunity gone?"

Another man says: "Does that dump on Washington street, a state highway, pay? Is it a good advertisement for the town? What can be done to get rid of an unsightly and unhealthy spot? Would any other town stand for such a condition on one of its best and most travelled streets?"

Are the citizens of Prospect street going to stand for its condition another hundred years, or are they going to demand a decent street with a decent sidewalk? Being obliged to walk in the middle of a rocky street in these days of automobiles is rather a dangerous obligation. Safety first may cost the people a little more, but it's a paying investment.

The Dr. Hathaway house would make a first-class club house, and it is said to be on the market. Chance to start what every healthy town needs.

A live young town recently held a window trimming contest, with prizes awarded, we think, by the Board of Trade. Wouldn't that be a good contest for our town?

A member of the Citizen's Association recently recalled in our hearing, of a promise made by the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. within a year or two, to remodel the interior of the Weymouth station. We wonder if any one is following this up. Progress.

Special Town Meeting.

Editor Gazette and Transcript:

A few words of explanation regarding articles 2, 3 and 4 in the town warrant, to be acted upon at the special town meeting Monday night, Oct. 30, may be of interest to the voters.

Article 2 asks for an appropriation of $1000 from any money in treasury, and for the issuance of a note of $3200, payable April 1, 1917, for the purchase of a Buffalo Maintenance Roller.

The question is apt to be raised as to the needs of a roller of this type, and especially at this time of the year, when our road work is nearly finished. As to the desirability of another roller, I think everyone familiar with the extent of roads in Weymouth, and the nature of their construction, will admit that it is practically impossible to get our road shaped up and rolled in place good enough to receive tarvia treatment until late in the season, with the use of but one roller. And that one practically unfit for heavy work.

The purchase at this time of the year is advisable from a financial standpoint, as the price of this 17-ton maintenance roller is $4500. The one in question that we have an option on has been used about eight days for demonstrating purposes before coming to Weymouth for a try-out, and for that reason was offered at $4200, or three hundred dollars below the regular selling price. The option holds good until action has been passed by the voters at the special meeting.

The Buffalo Steam Roller Co. have announced that the price for their rollers of this type will be $4850 after Jan. 1st, 1917. In other words the town can save $350 by buying now.

If action is delayed until the March meeting the possibilities are that it would take at least two months to get a delivery and the first two months in the spring is when a roller will do the most good. Other than the needs of two rollers is the fact that this maintenance roller has a smaller attachment for breaking up material that is unequalled by any other machine. We have many miles of streets in Weymouth which have plenty of material on them, and all that is needed to make a good road is the breaking up, re-shaping and rolling. With the supply of good gravel getting less each year, and the long hauls encountered, the cost of repairing roads with gravel is no small item.

Article 3 calls for an appropriation of $1,000 to take care of the snow. Last year the snow fall was the heaviest in many years and Weymouth, from all reports, received its full quota. The appropriation made at the March meeting was immediately wiped out; in fact it was exceeded by $442.16, which remains to be paid.

Article 4 asks for $1500 for general highway repairs. The appropriation this year for highway repairs was $9600 or $1900 less than the previous year. The condition of the roads this spring was exceptionally bad, not only in Weymouth, but all over the state, and the expense of shaping them up and making repairs was greater than ordinarily. Two drains in East Weymouth had to be constructed, the expense of which was unforeseen, and cost approximately $800. There are at present many jobs that should be done this year, such as cleaning of drains and gutters that are absolutely necessary.

Trusting that these statements may be of interest, and will receive the approval of the voters, and thanking you for your valuable space, I am

Yours very respectfully,
Irving E. Johnson,
Supt. of Streets.

TOWN BUSINESS.

At the meeting of the selectmen on Monday, there being no remonstrants, permit was granted the Weymouth Light & Power Co. to erect 24 poles on Washington street.

A communication was received from Thruway Hanson, State supervisor of weights and measures, complimenting the work of R. B. Werster, and authorizing new equipments for his use.

A hearing was held in regard to the laying out of Birch Brow avenue as a town way, and the selectmen will view the same Saturday afternoon.

Fred H. Bartlett was appointed as a special police officer.

Some time was spent in discussing the petition of the Bay State Street Railway, for relocation of tracks at several points in South Weymouth, and the meeting adjourned to meet at the same place on Tuesday evening. Voted to invite to the meeting A. P. Worthen, town counsel, and John J. Conway, superintendent of the street railway.

The adjourned meeting was quite a protracted one, and among other things the street grading at Columbian square became a factor and it was voted to have Mr. Whiting, the engineer, make a survey of the same preparatory for further action. At 11:40 the meeting adjourned.

PROBABLE CHAMPIONS

Weymouth High Making Great Showing in League

In a game which gave Weymouth High a clear lead for the championship of the South Shore League, Weymouth plied the flag of defeat on "Coach" Roberts fast aggregation from Brockton at the Clapp field Monday afternoon, score 40 to 0. The game was filled with successful intercepting of forward passes, blocking punts and long runs.

Weymouth scored the first touchdown in the second quarter by Mauro, who got three of the six touchdowns. Whittle and Mahoney, ends, played an excellent game, breaking many of Brockton's end runs. Curtin used excellent judgment in the mixing up of the plays; he had the Brockton defense guessing the whole of the game. Richardson was a hard man for the visitors to handle; he plowing through their lines in a number of good gains. In the third period Brockton showed more action than any other time during the game. In this period they tried a number of forward passes. Gilmore made a 30 yard end-run, their longest run of the game.

In the fourth period Mauro picked up a fumble and ran 65 yards, scoring a touchdown. The summary:

WEYMOUTH	BROCKTON
Whittle, 1 e,	r e, Walsh, Cogan
C. Palmer, 1 t, r t, Hendrigan, Rodenbush	McIntosh, 1 g, r g, O'Brien, McMinlin

Weymouth, 40; Brockton, 9. Touchdowns.—Mauro 3, Curtin 2, Richardson 1. Goals from touchdowns.—Curtin, 4. Referee, McCarthy, of Georgetown University. Umpire—Smith, of University of Maine. Linesmen—Bartlett, Fortin and Marble. Time—four 11-minute periods.

Fire Truck Breaks Down.

While answering box 56 about 3.30 Wednesday afternoon for a fire at the home of Harry Jones, 286 Thicket street, the transmission rod broke down, stalling the truck at the top of Pond Plain hill.

Combination 3 was called at once, and it is said that after making a remarkably quick run they found the barn beyond saving, and owing to the lack of water they were unable to save the house.

The fire started in the barn and quickly spread to the house, resulting in a total loss. The house and barn were valued at about $2500, and were partly covered by insurance.

A local garage was summoned and a temporary repair made on Combination 5, enabling her to continue to the fire, but too late to be of any assistance.

VOTE RIGHT

As usual, just before election day, there undoubtedly will be many things sprung upon the voting public too late for investigation, or denial, and it behoves every voter to guard against getting rattled or allowing himself to be unduly influenced by such statements. Vote as in your calm mind you have decided to be right, disregarding all sensational stories or charges which may be circulated at the last moment.

DEEP SEA PORT

All developments of Weymouth Fore River and its tributaries are sure to benefit Weymouth and Brain-tree. The large takings by the Boston Port Directors at Hayward's creek near the shipyard means much for our future prosperity.

PAPER STOCK

Newspaper publishers are experiencing great difficulty in getting stock upon which to print their papers. It is impossible to secure duplicates of former orders, and they are often obliged to buy stock they really do not want. We are glad for the stock now being used in the Gazette.

EQUATE OR EQUATIONS

In school, equation of payments was one of our most serious difficulties and later on in life we have encountered many hard problems in equations, but the hardest one we have met came a day or two ago at Jackson square, East Weymouth. Three men met and incidentally our recent adjustment of street railroad fare came up. One of the men had just paid six cents for a ride from the westerly end of Madison street to Jackson square, a distance of less than half a mile; the second man had just paid six cents from Hingham to the Masonic Temple, a distance of five miles; and the third man had paid five cents from the depot at Quincy to Jackson square, seven miles or more. Most people think it is about time for some other committee or board to equate our street railroad fares.

COMING OF THE ELECTRICS

The following appeared in the Gazette 24 years ago, as rails and sleepers were landed at North Weymouth for the first electric cars:

"This week there has come a rift in the clouds of doubt which for some time have hung over this place in regard to an electric road. Loads of sleepers have arrived, and are piled along the line of the proposed tramway. The iron is actually here along which will trundle the long-awaited-for cars. Old men have grown young again as they see their most cherished hopes about to be realized, and young men are full of glee as they gaze at these evidences of advance and prosperity. Real estate, in sympathy with the spirit of the times, is brightening up, and plans are being made for improvements all along the line.
Nor will the development be confined to the land alone."

How could we do without the electric cars?

The Way With Habits.

Joshem—"It's impossible to overcome a bad habit." Easyun—"Why is it?" Joshem—"Because if you take away the first three letters the whole of it remains"

Catarrrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach
the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness,
and that is by a constitutional remedy.
Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of
the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube
restored to its normal condition, hearing
will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is
an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars
free. All Druggists, 75c.

School House Site.

South Weymouth, October, 1916
Editor Gazette-Transcript:

It occurs to me that perhaps the voter in Weymouth, outside of the South part, when he sees upon his ballot the school-site paragraph, will say, "I know very little of the merits of the matter, and I guess I won't vote either way."

That would be unfortunate, now that this important stage has been reached. Two vital considerations stand forth—that South Weymouth needs a new school building, (which the town has granted) and that the best interests of the town as a whole, should be subserved in locating that building.

Union street does not like the Tirrell lot location, and Pond Plain is not wholly pleased with it, but they have not offered an alternative site that fulfills essential requirements. The down-the-town voter, who listened to the controversy in the last town-meeting, heard about a three-acre lot in Columbian square, offered at an over-assessed valuation, and having but limited advantages for a school-house lot, except its location, and that doubtful for young children. They heard about a 7-acre lot, near the cemetery on Main street, which is high and dry land with natural drainage, and large enough for a ball field at the rear and an ample front yard, to keep scholars off the highway; and all this and more for practically the same money. And besides, there is in this location more than a hint of a public park possibility, which is a feature worth considering.

Assuredly the best interests of the town demand a lot for less money than has been stated, but there seems to be no philanthropic person ready to deliver the goods. On the contrary the situation is befogged by the personal prejudices of adjacent residents, by the greed of would-be sellers of land, and by the entirely untrustworthy character of our assessment valuations.

What is to be done? No wonder the down-the-town voter will hesitate. Should he vote "No" to help Union street or Pond Plain in their protest, and kill the new school-house project for a period of years? Or should he vote "Yes" and secure for the town a lot which, though it will cost just as much money, and is a little less central, yet at the same time gives greater value for the outlay (that the state now endorses, in a way)—a lot which will cost less to work and develop, and which is right in the way of a public park project that is bound to come in a few years if the lines are laid wisely now.

I have preached the Tirrell lot quite independently of the bunch, not because I thought it cheap, or wholly convenient to everybody, or invested with superlative attributes; but with my limited ability I can see there many qualifications for a school site, and in balancing up it shows more points for the best interest of the town, which, after all, is what the down-the-town voter will think of more than purely local considerations.

Women More Loyal.

Mr. Editor:—

Read your very good story of the last meeting of the Board of Trade in recent issue, and it does seem that it is an awful waste of good time of good speakers to come to Weymouth expecting to address a "Board of Trade" and have the pleasure (?) of addressing generally less than twenty-five full grown men—the usual attendance of the Weymouth Board of Trade.

Out of nearly 4,000 voters, men who should be up and doing, why is it only these few care enough about important town matters?

Why do our women's organizations have memberships of 300 to 400 and turn out in goodly numbers every two weeks to hear speakers of note on subjects pertaining to matters useful in their work? These women find some way to leave their household duties for an afternoon, hundreds of them, and the poor men with nothing to do in the evening cannot spare the simple cost or the time to join and attend the monthly meetings of the Board of Trade, an organization founded to promote the welfare and advantages of their town. It does seem queer, and if you can discover the cause and the cure, you, as a new-comer to town, will be doing the town a "good turn."

Ebenezer Getback did make some rather queer predictions, yet, as you say, there is a way. Publicity with the help of organization, or organization with the help of publicity can do it. You are in a position to be of great service to the town, and I hope through your editorial columns you can convince the "let the other fellow do it."

A good big Board of Trade, with good live speakers such as have been at the last two meetings to show the way, a little hard work by those who can but don't, with the publicity which you can give, can get the results. Why do those who would, refuse to come out and give those who will, a lift? Some conundrum? "READY."

Rally Sunday

Rally Sunday was observed at the East Congregational church Sunday, with several new and especially pleasing features. The exercises were held in the church auditorium under the leadership of John A. MacFaun, superintendent of the Sunday school. The music was by the church choir, with Mrs. Franklin Whitten soloist.

This was also "promotion day" and two classes entered the junior from the primary department. The good-bye to the classes was given by Miss Marion Shalles, the farewell to the department by Miss Orley Melville. Miss Rachel Sampson of the junior department welcomed the classes as they passed through a floral gateway. A Bible was presented to each graduate by the pastor, Rev. Edward T. Ford.

A class was also graduated from the junior to the senior department. The good-bye was spoken by Miss Ruth Wing, and the welcome of the seniors was by Miss Loreen Kimball. Diplomas were presented by Miss Grace W. Mitchell, superintendent of the junior department. Mrs. Hamilton Conant of Boston, gave a very interesting and profitable address.

Judge for Yourself.

WHICH IS BETTER—TRY AN EXPERIMENT OR PROFIT BY A WEYMOUTH CITIZEN'S EXPERIENCE.

Something new is an experiment. Must be proved to be as represented. The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit.

But the endorsement of friends is. Now supposing you had a bad back, A lame, weak, or aching one, Would you experiment on it? You will read of many so-called cures. Endorsed by strangers from far away places.

It's different when the endorsement comes from home. Easy to prove local testimony.

Read this Weymouth case: Mrs. S. R. Parker, 39 Granite street, Weymouth, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills on several occasions for a too frequent action of my kidneys and lameness across them, and they have always helped me. I keep Doan's Kidney Pills in my home at all times and use them when occasion arises."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Parker uses. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

POULTRY FACTS

COLD STORAGE IS EFFICIENT

Recommended by Expert of Kansas Agricultural College as Best Way of Keeping Eggs.

Cold storage is the best way to preserve eggs, in the opinion of F. E. Mussehl, instructor in poultry husbandry in the Kansas State Agricultural college.

"Many preparations are used for preserving eggs," says Mr. Mussehl, "but none are as efficient as cold storage. Some persons use sodium silicate, commonly known as water glass, while others use lard or one of the many commercial preparations to preserve eggs."

"These methods of storing eggs prevent decomposition by bacterial action, but do not stop enzyme action. The enzymes are always present in the egg and are active at ordinary temperatures. With good fresh eggs kept at the proper storage temperature—31 or 32 degrees Fahrenheit—enzyme action as well as bacterial action is prevented. Three months is a long time to keep eggs at room temperature yet this is what the poultry department has done."

In order to prove the superiority of infertile eggs over fertile ones in keeping quality, Mr. Mussehl kept a dozen eggs in his office for three months. When examined at the end of the period they showed no signs of decomposition other than a slight thinning of the white and yolk, and a faint odor. These changes were due to the action of enzymes within the egg.

ERADICATION OF RED MITES

All Night Pests Fill Their Bodies With Blood From Fowls and Then Hide in Daytime.

The red mite is the worst enemy the poultryman has to contend with, and the very hardest one to fight. This pest is very small and normally is grayish in color, but, more often, it presents a deep red color, because of the blood with which it is filled.

Unless very numerous, the mites are seldom found on the hens. The pests work on the hens at night, filling their bodies with blood, and hide beneath the perches, and in cracks and crevices near the roosting quarters during the day.

Whitewash is not very effective in fighting the red mite. A better spraying material is coal oil emulsion. This is made by dissolving half a bar of laundry soap in hot water and adding half a gallon of coal oil. This mixture can be diluted with five gallons of water. The emulsion is best applied with a spray-pump, for the reason that the pump will put the fluid in cracks and crevices that could not be reached with a brush.

The job of spraying must be very thoroughly done. Some of the mites will likely escape the first spraying, and for this reason it is advisable to repeat the spraying in a few days, and again in a week, to destroy the mites that hatch from eggs.

WHY LEGHORNS ARE POPULAR

Food Cost is Exceptionally Low and Floor Space is Less—Test Made at Cornell University.

The cost of egg production with Leghorns is exceptionally low according to tests made at the Cornell university.

On one large poultry farm the food cost in the case of Leghorns is exceptionally low and will average three cents a dozen less than where large breeds are used, and in addition to this the floor space required for Leghorns is less than that required for an equal number of larger fowls.

These birds also cost less to raise to maturity, and all of these characteristics will result in effecting very important saving in the cost of food, labor and equipment.

FREE RANGE FOR CHICKENS

Hens Made Happy and Comfortable and Encouraged to Lay—Freedom Means Eggs and Health.

Of all the good things one can do for his hens to make them happy and comfortable and so induce them to lay well, nothing is better than to give free range. If the freedom of the farm cannot be permitted, at least fence in as big a field as possible and let the birds roam over it at will. It means health, happiness and eggs.

Which costs most—painting or waiting?

After your house needs painting, every year you wait it will require more paint and more labor to put it in good condition. And every year you wait, your house is worth less. A little paint-money is good paint-insurance.

Republican Rally.

The Republican rally as arranged by the state and town committees was held at Odd Fellows Opera House, East Weymouth, Wednesday evening. There was a marked absence at the beginning of old time features of Republican rallies—no display of flags or patriotic bunting, no bands to stir the audience with patriotic music and no glee clubs with national songs.

The meeting was called to order by William J. Holbrook of the Town Committee, who after a few remarks, introduced Col. Henry L. Kincade, candidate for Congress.

Col. Kincade spoke of the importance of electing a Republican to Congress, in order to avoid a repetition of the business depression which came with the second Cleveland administration.

Col. Kincade was followed by Representative Nash, now candidate for the senate. Mr. Nash explained the situation of the Norfolk and Plymouth Senatorial district, with two Republicans and one Democratic candidate in the field, and urged the importance of voting for the regular primary nominee instead of a candidate who came in later with independent nomination papers.

Congressman Augustus P. Gardner, of the Essex district, who had arrived late, was the next speaker and held for 40 minutes the closest attention of his hearers as he spoke of the lack of preparedness in our army and navy for serious difficulties which are liable to occur at any moment in our domestic affairs and foreign relations. He was unsparing in his criticism of the present administration in its failure to meet and adjust the Mexican and Marine difficulties which have arisen.

The final speaker was Burgess H. Spinney, candidate for Representative who repeated his campaign issues, as to being a native of Weymouth, educated here, saying he thought he knew what the town wanted, and should work for the best interests of the town. His name was inadvertently omitted from the advertised list of speakers.

New Dry Dock.

Rumor is circulating along the waterfront, says a Boston paper, that the proposed purchase by the new waterways commission of 100 acres of land in Quincy and Braintree may prove to be the first step in a plan to build the great Boston dry dock near the Fore River shipbuilding yards instead of in South Boston, where the building of the dry dock has begun.

Since the collapse of the coffer dam of the dry dock no considerable amount of work has been done. A New York expert is said to have investigated the present site and to have reported to the waterways commission that it was not the best that could be obtained.

So far the rumor has not crystallized into anything more definite than gossip. Chairman Cole of the waterways commission refused today to discuss the report, although he admitted that an expert had examined the present site and that his report would be made public later.

Christian Science.

George Shaw Cook, C.S.B., member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, addressed a large audience at Braintree Town Hall on Oct. 15. In part he said:

When a New England woman announced that she had discovered the Principle and law of primitive Christian healing, and that because of this discovery it would become universally possible for the sick to be healed by divine power as in the time of Christ Jesus, her announcement met with ridicule and scorn. But Mrs. Eddy too had faith—she had the absolute conviction and confidence begotten of understanding and demonstration.

Therefore she was not dismayed by the storm of doubt which beat in upon her as the result of her proclamation to mankind. Because she knew her discovery to be genuine, she had the courage and faithfulness to perfect it and give it to humanity in the form of a text-book of demonstrable science. Little by little, scoffers and skeptics were compelled to admit that there is a power on earth today which heals sickness and sin as it did centuries ago.

When the works of Christian Science thus compelled recognition, efforts were made to discredit Mrs. Eddy as its discoverer; but this, too, signally failed. Today, when there are in different parts of the world more than 1600 Christian Science organizations founded upon the rock of Christ-healing, Mrs. Eddy is generally acknowledged as the Discoverer of Christian Science and the revered Leader of the Christian Science movement. And Christian Science is gradually coming to be recognized as the reestablishment or restoration of primitive Christianity.

Weymouth Historical Society.

The Weymouth Historical Society met at the Fogg Library, South Weymouth, Wednesday evening. The meeting was a very interesting one, as an address was given by Rev. William Hyde on "Daniel Shedd, and the Shedd Memorial at Quincy." At this meeting resolutions were passed concerning the death of Hon. John J. Loud, who was president of the society for thirty years.

FISHED WITH A GANDER.

And Now the Poor Fowl Shows a Distinct Aversion to Water.

A gander was so upset by experiments made upon and through him by a mischievous boy that for a long time he would not go into the water.

The gander's determination to abstain from water as a means of bathing grew out of the following circumstances:

The boy thought he would tie a fishing line to the gander's leg and with a hook properly baited turn the bird out into the water. The bait was a frog.

The gander went into the mill pond, where he swam around for half an hour, turning "dipslaps" and diving for food. Suddenly he felt a pull at his leg and looked as surprised as the "lone fisherman" when he caught a whale.

The gander thought there was something the matter, and he looked to ascertain the cause. The pickerel on the hook gave several jerks, whereupon the gander decided he wanted to go home.

He at once started for the shore, but the pickerel on the hook wanted to go the other way. The gander seemed frightened at first. Then he evidenced signs of anger and tried to fly to shore, but the pickerel pulled him back.

After half an hour of the hardest work he had ever done the gander came ashore, dragging a six pound pickerel up the bank.

The boy took off the pickerel and baited the hook with another frog. He tried to induce the gander to go in for another swim, but no amount of persuasion could get the bird to do so. He simply would not be driven in. For many weeks the gander would not go into the water. He would proceed with the rest of the flock to the water's edge, but there he would stop. He would seem to be arguing with them with reference to the danger they were courting.—Los Angeles Times.

SHOOTING WITH A RIFLE.

The Proper Way to Aim if One Aspires to Good Marksmanship.

Walter Winans, the famous American sharpshooter, who lives in England, writes to the Scientific American the following directions as to the proper way to aim a rifle:

"The way to shoot is, first, put a big ivory front sight in place of the black one used for target shooting.

"Most real objects one shoots at are more or less dark, and the black front sight is difficult to see on the object; the white one shows up at once.

"Next, have your hind sight put on the rifle at the distance from your eye that you can read print best.

"When shooting do not try to focus a black bullseye, a black front sight and a black hind sight and a half dozen other things alternately while you hold on to your rifle like grim death.

"Look at the object you want to hit. If it is moving judge how much allowance in front you must make, bring up your rifle to your shoulder, swinging it with the movement of the object you want to hit, and press the trigger as the butt touches your shoulder.

"The bullet will go where you want it to without your noticing the sights at all.

"If you want to be a good rifle shot at game, or as a soldier, join the nearest clay pigeon shooting club, and when you can break 90 per cent of the clays you can rest perfectly confident that you can hit a man every shot you fire if being charged by an enemy if you have a rifle in your hands instead of a shotgun.

"If you practice in a 'coal hole' rifle gallery at a stationary black bullseye with a black front sight and see 'three front sights' and a 'blurred back sight' you are not learning to shoot, but merely ruining your eyesight."

Cornish Pies.

There are several dishes peculiar to Cornwall, and a pasty is one. It resembles an apple turnover, but is composed of meat, potato and seasoning, finely chopped. Almost every kind of food is put into a Cornish pie. Squab pie is a great favorite. Herby pie is another popular dish, composed of netties, pepper cress, parsley, mustard and spinach, together with thin slices of pork. Pies are also made with leeks and pilchards, goose feet, gizzard and blood, raisins, sugar and apples and mackerel, parsley and cream.—London Standard.

Her Proof.

"I've brought back those eggs you gave me this morning," said the new bride as she began to take the articles in question from her basket. "They're duck eggs."

"Duck eggs?" sneered the grocery boss. "You're mistaken, ma'am. I don't never sell no duck eggs."

"But I tested them," triumphed the matrimonial novice. "I dropped them into water and they floated."—Judge.

Domestic Discussion.

"My husband accuses me of extravagance. I spent about $10.00 last year."

"I wouldn't mind being scolded on that basis. I have to stand for the same accusation on $20 a week."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Bohemia.

Bohemia has not existed as a separate independent nation since 1020. That year was fought the battle of the White mountain, which resulted in the total overthrow of the Bohemian forces and the subjugation of the country to Austria.

Eagles on a Hunt.

Eagles usually hunt in pairs, one bird frightening the prey from its hiding place and the other pouncing on it as it tries to escape.

WEYMOUTH HEIGHTS

—Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lunt have been enjoying the company of James Lunt of Mechanics Falls, Me.

—Miss Ida Boyden of Wellesey has been a recent guest of Miss Annie K. Jones.

—James L. Wildes is on a business trip to Kennebunk, Me.

—Mrs. Hubbard of North street spent the week end with friends in Brockton.

—The Ladies Benevolent Society are holding an all day meeting in the Old North chapel today. A chafing dish lunch was served at noontime.

—Miss M. M. Hunt visited Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hunt of Stoneham over the week end.

—An appetizing supper was served in the Old North chapel Friday evening under the auspices of the Ladies Benevolent Society. Following the supper an entertainment was given. The program opened with a piano solo by Paul Rivinus of East Weymouth, readings were rendered by Miss Mary Humphrey in her usual pleasing manner, and the vocal solos by George B. Bicknell received much applause. Also a cornet solo was given by R. Edward Bates which was greatly appreciated.

—The Old North Sunday School observed Rally Day on Sunday. At 4.30 o'clock a special service of unusual interest was held in the chapel, in which the teachers as well as the pupils had a part. John B. Merrill took the part of the Spirit of Christian Service, accompanied by two scouts, Donald MacDowell and Frank Whipple. During the service diplomas were presented to all pupils having had perfect attendance for the past one to ten years, Miss Bertha C. Nash being the only one receiving a diploma for ten years' perfect attendance. Rally day souvenirs were given to all those present, and the program closed with the singing of America.

Killing No Murder

By H. M. EGBERT

(Copyright, 1916, by W. G. Chapman.)

Lawrence Preston, murderer, occupies a good position in the social world of his native town. He is vice president of the board of trade, a respected business man, a good citizen and has an adoring wife and children. He goes to church on Sundays and walks home with a clean conscience.

Is murder justifiable? Preston had loved Dorothy for years before Rankin appeared upon the scene, with his flashy ways and tales of wanderings and adventures. He was just the type of man who would captivate the heart of an inexperienced girl like Dorothy. Preston, to whom she was more than half engaged, saw her slipping away from him.

Dorothy married Rankin, and then ensued five of the bitterest years of her life. He took her money and spent it, partly gambling, partly on other women. Dorothy ought to have divorced him, perhaps, but she shrank from that step; nothing like it had been known in her family, and, while she was still deliberating, Rankin was killed in the train accident that occurred after the Watertown races where he had gone to play.

The body was mangled among a heap of others and only identified by a card in a card case. It occurred to nobody that Rankin might have given his card to some chance acquaintance upon the train. Dorothy did not pretend to mourn him. Six months later she married Preston, and her real honeymoon began.

Two years of ideal happiness passed. Preston was at this time representing his firm on the road. He was away for a week when Dorothy, seated happily on the porch of their house, and thinking of him, saw a ragged tramp approaching along the road.

Something in the man's appearance, in his slouching gait arrested her attention. Suddenly she sat up in her chair, rigid, her eyes fixed with horror upon the face of the man who had been her husband.

Rankin advanced up the little walk of the garden. He grinned amiably as he came to a halt in front of the terrified girl and removed his battered hat with a mock bow.

"Well, wife," he said, "is that all you have to say to me? Aren't you glad to see me again after all these years?"

Dorothy only shrank from him. Rankin observed the movement and he grinned, not so amiably as before.

"I guess we'd better have this thing out right away," he said, taking his seat beside her. "So you thought I was dead and got married again, eh? And I guess you're happier than you were with me? And you wouldn't like to be disgraced and have to take me back?"

"I'll never do that!" cried Dorothy. "Maybe not," he admitted. "All the same, you'd give a good deal to get rid of me and not let your husband know it wasn't my body that was found. How much is it worth to you?"

"What do you mean?" cried the girl. "I mean," said Rankin sullenly, "that I'm down and out. When I heard you thought me dead and had got hitched up again, I meant to stay away. You weren't the only one that was sorry to have got married. Married life wasn't all beams and roses for me neither. Now, then, how much is it worth to you to set me on my feet, knowing I'll never come back? Make it five hundred."

"You want me to deceive my husband?" cried the girl.

"I'm your husband," said Rankin with another grin. "Come now, five hundred squares it. I know you can raise that. I didn't run through all your money. I wish I had, but now it seems just as well."

Dorothy rose and faced him scornfully. "You mean that if I give you five hundred dollars you will never see me again?" she asked.

"That's about the size of it," he answered.

"I have five hundred left and you shall have it by the first post tomorrow," said the girl. "Give me your address."

"The Parker hotel," said Rankin.

That afternoon the girl drew all her money out of the bank and mailed it to him. No answer came, of which she was glad; but no Rankin returned. And Dorothy nerved herself to meet her husband on his return and keep the matter from him for his sake.

"Why, you look quite worn out, dearest," said Preston. "You'll have to run into the country for a few days' change."

She clung to him hysterically. "I don't want to leave you, Lawrence," she cried.

"What nonsense!" he answered, kissing her. "It will do you good, dear. You are as white as a rag. Come, I want you to go off on a little trip and freshen up."

Dorothy consented, and Preston spent a week in town alone. It was on the third day that a tramp, shuffling along the road, looked up at the house, saw Preston, and hesitated.

Then he went brazenly up the path and stood before him. Preston recognized the man and gasped.

"Rankin!" he cried.

"You've got me," answered Rankin. "I thought you were dead."

"I guess you both did. Where's Dorothy?"

"Mrs. Preston is away," said Preston hotly.

Rankin grinned and seated himself upon the porch. "Let's talk like men," he said. "How much? How much for me to go away and never turn up again?"

"You blackmailer—"

"Oh, cut out the adjectives," said Rankin. "I guess it's worth five hundred to you not to let Do—I mean Mrs. Preston—know. Five hundred and you don't hear of me again."

Preston thought, his eyes fixed on Rankin's face. He was in a trap, and for Dorothy's sake he must submit.

"I'll give you five hundred," he said. "And—listen, you hound! If ever I see you again I'll kill you. I'm a man of my word and I mean just that."

"That's all right," answered Rankin easily. "Five hundred goes."

"Be back in an hour," said Preston, "and you shall have it."

An hour later Preston handed Rankin his money, and the man shuffled out of sight along the road. Preston watched him. He had meant what he said. For Dorothy's sake he was resolved to kill Rankin if he entered their lives again.

Rankin, who had lost the five hundred in a gambling hell, took the second amount to the place. He was sure he could easily get all he wanted out of Preston. He inquired and learned that Dorothy would not return for a day or two. The second five hundred followed the first.

Rankin did not call at Preston's house again. Perhaps he had a lurking fear of violence; perhaps his nerve was not equal to seeing Preston. He wrote a letter instead, asking for five hundred more. It was a letter typical of such a man, now threatening, now imploring, and winding up with the statement that he meant to take the money and go West.

Preston received the letter when he came home from business. When he had read it he sat with hardened face, thinking. He saw this blackmailer a chronic feature of his life. He saw that in the man's death lay the only chance for Dorothy's happiness. And he meant to protect Dorothy at the cost of his life—or of his soul.

Rankin had asked Preston to meet him on the bridge across the river—a lonely spot in a deserted quarter of the town, given over only by day to factory activities. Preston put a loaded revolver into his pocket that night and walked briskly through the town until he reached the rendezvous.

As he stood on the bridge he saw the ragged figure approaching him from the low quarter of the town in which the Parker hotel was situated. Rankin saw Preston and hurried forward. He stopped a few feet away and looked at him inquiringly.

"I got your letter," said Preston calmly.

"Yes," said Rankin, deceived by the other's manner. "I meant to keep my promise to you. But I was sluggish and robbed. And I've got to go West, and I'm stranded. If I stayed in town you know I'd be recognized and the truth would come out."

"It would," Preston agreed. "I've got to get out of town, then," said Rankin. "You'd better hand over that five hundred, and I'll take the first train for California in the morning."

"Rankin," said Preston, "you are supposed to have died in that train wreck."

"Yes, but I didn't, so what's the use of talking?" asked Rankin with a sneer, thinking that the other was temporizing.

"Nobody knows you didn't die," said Preston thoughtfully.

"I guess they will soon, if you don't come across," said Rankin threateningly.

"You are as good as dead, anyway," said Preston, as if talking to himself. "Is five hundred the least you will take, Rankin?"

"Not a cent less, and it's that or exposure," answered the other.

"There's an alternative."

"There is, eh?" demanded Rankin.

"What?"

"This," answered Preston, drawing the revolver from his pocket and aiming it at Rankin's heart.

He saw the terror in the blackmailer's eyes; then, pressing the muzzle to his breast, he fired. Without a sound the blackmailer toppled into the sluggish stream.

Preston dropped the weapon after him and walked home.

ALONG FASHION'S CHANGING TRACK

Will the Directoire Become the Choice of the Important Minority?

IS AN IMPORTANT QUESTION

Skirts Will Be Ankle, Instead of Shoe-Top, Length, But Narrower—Lafayette and Robespierre Colors to the Front.

New York.—One of the interesting phases of American fashions is to stand by the side of the racetrack and watch a few fashions in the contest for the blue ribbon of popularity.

This race usually occurs in September and March. The observer considers it as a species of sartorial sport, but the men behind these fashions regard it with anxiety and deep concern.

They have brought these models from Paris and they have probably risked a great deal of their money on them, and some force outside of themselves seems to put certain gowns and hats on this racetrack of fashion and bring them into a sharp contest.

Probably the manufacturer makes his money out of this race. If he does, he is quite content, for by the time December comes he is ready to put another set of models on the track.

The high-priced dressmakers regard this race in September and March as a blessing not in disguise. Through it they are enabled to make their discard of certain gowns before the actual season opens. Women of fashion rarely get their autumn and winter clothes until October. If they buy early models before then, their wisdom and experience teach them that these clothes are merely stock-gaps which tide over the interim between the faded summer finery and the new winter equipment.

Will the Directoire Come?

Now the puzzling question before the people who buy and sell is this: Will the Moyaen-age, which was so speedily carried to popularity, become a drug in the market, and will the directoire loom up as the choice of the minority? Will the smart women who really lead the affairs of dress decide that the high waistline, slim hips, tight shoulders and long sleeves will be the fashion of their choice, making a direct contrast to the wrapper-like frock that is girdled around the hips?

In France the tendency is toward the directoire and first empire. It is believed that the smart women over there have gone in for the newer line and that the waistline dropped to the hips was a follow-on of French styles that had been taken up in May and June.

The belief of the experts is that the directoire will win before Thanksgiving. They believed that in Paris, and this belief has been strengthened by the action of the multitudinous masses in America in taking up the Moyaen-age and not looking at the directoire. However, it's all a gamble. That's what makes clothes and the discussion of them exceedingly interesting to those who are behind the scenes or standing at the side of the racetrack.

It is not probable that the extreme, or rather pure, directoire will be inaugurated before February, although it may flicker over here before that time among the exclusive models that are sent over to women who keep their orders in French houses and to those shops whose buyers send over something different every month.

Skirts to Be Longer.

There would be no cause for surprise if one saw, at some time not far away, a return to the tight, narrow skirt and the long-tailed coat with its short, ornamented front and striped waistcoats. We must turn somewhere; we have had the fashion of the moment with us for so long a time that in things sartorial, a break is sure to come.

There is no doubt about the fact that we will consider ankle length, rather than shoe-top length, the more correct way to cut a skirt. We may really come into the long, full, straight skirt that falls on the floor when we are dressed for the evening, but the united hopes of a nation should bar out the long skirt for the street; the accepted length is more graceful and in far better taste than that which we have exploited for a year.

Long, full skirts are excessively awkward, and for that reason it is believed that the longer skirts get, the narrower they will grow at the hem.

New Colors to the Front.

It is evidently not to be a season of black, although it remains as a color in first fashion and will be chosen by those who like it. But the colors of Lafayette and Robespierre are coming to the front.

Our coat suits of soft velour, with their deep revers, are to be of plum color, of deep Burgundy, of bottle green and of that brown that is like snuff with a golden tinge in it.

It is not given to every woman to wear brown, and in choosing it she must be excessively careful. If she has not artistic perceptions of her own, she should call them in from the outside.

That bright mustard yellow that is offered everywhere in smart suits, especially in the new satin jersey, is a most monstrous color on the wrong woman, and it should be avoided as the plague unless one is quite sure, beyond peradventure, of its success.

There is something pleasing in the thought of plum color and bottle green. They are rich, warm colors, quite suitable to our sharp winters. The milliners have joined with the dressmakers to create an excellent ensemble by introducing the eighteenth-century hat with its small sloping brim and its high, soft crown.

There is every reason to believe that women can be turned out in excellent manner this winter; there is nothing capricious about the styles, and there is much that is eminently artistic.

(Copyright, 1916.)

TIPS FOR SEWERS

Make your piece bags of mosquito netting. You can find the location of any piece without dumping out the whole bag.

Keep your crochet needles in old fountain pen cases.

Two pasteboard tubes around which waxed paper is wrapped may be gummed together to form the foundation of a centerpiece roll.

A centerpiece which is stamped too close to the edge should have a bit of muslin basted to the edge so that it may be caught in the embroidery hoops.

Patching and darning can be done in a much more artistic and neater manner when embroidery hoops are used.

Little Taffeta Coats.

Separate coats of taffeta are worn. Some are hardly more than little matinees in white, orchid, pale blue, pink and maize. They are loosely cut and are a little longer at the back than in front. They are trimmed with bands of marabou, sometimes in one broad band or in two narrow ones. There is a coat consisting of five or six layers of taffeta arranged on a background of the same. Each layer is next in order. The neck is high at the back and finished with a ruching, at the base of which is placed a band of ostrich feathers of the taffeta color.

Dainty Nightgowns.

They are of soft, fine crepe de Chine. And this silk stands tubing very well.

Usually they come in that delicate pink shade called flesh color—but there is white also.

Don't "Jiggle" The Hook

When you take the receiver off of the switchhook of your telephone, a small electric lamp is lighted on the switchboard in front of the operator. To that signal she responds with the familiar "Number, please?"

After your connection has been made with the other person, there are no lights on the switchboard until your receivers are placed on the switchhooks again, which signals mean, to the operator, that the conversation has ended.

If you desire to get the operator's attention, you may do so by moving the receiver hook down and up, but IT MUST BE DONE SLOWLY, or the little lamp will not glow on the switchboard and the operator will not get any signal. Your observance of this method of signaling will insure more prompt attention by the operator and will help to make the service better.

The above suggestions are applicable to all subscribers located where the light signalling system is in use.

A flea and a fly, in a flue,
Got caught; so what could they do?
Said the flea, "Let us fly,"
Said the fly, "Let us flee,"
So they flew thru a flaw in the flue.

P. S.—Mending flues is a good prevention of fires, but an insurance with Russell B. Worster is the best and only cure.

—DIED.

ANDREWS—In North Weymouth, Oct. 21, Mrs. Betsey L., widow of George Andrews, of 189 Sea street.

BLACKWELL—In North Weymouth, Oct. 22, Charles F. Blackwell of North street, aged 72 years.

WEBB—In Weymouth, Oct. 26, Lydia C. Webb, aged 83 years, 4 months.

CLARK—In Roxbury, Oct. 24, Charles Forrest Clark formerly of Weymouth.

Freeman Putney, Sr. has the class for young women. Last Sunday the young women woke up to their opportunity.

Last Sunday night the young people had an enjoyable evening discussing the early history of Pilgrim Life and Congregationalism. Next Sunday night three young people will tell us more about this early history and some of the difficulties the first Pilgrims had. These meetings are open to all, and we would be glad to have anyone who can attend. In a few days the new stereopticon will be installed in the vestry. Three stereopticon lectures of vital interest in Pilgrim and Puritan history have already been engaged.

Of interest to all Halloween lovers will be the good time coming Tuesday for the children in the afternoon at 4 o'clock, and for everybody in the evening, with a supper served in the vestry at 6:30 o'clock. The children will gather in the gymnasium in the afternoon. Games will be played under the direction of a committee of the church school. Games and stunts will be operated in the evening for grown-ups in the H. H. P. Don't miss it. The entire church is in it.

Cottage Meetings.

Over 100 people were present at the six meetings last Monday evening. The subject next week will be "The Power of Prayer." Meetings will be held Monday at 7:30 with Mrs. G. C. Torrey, 50 Torrey street; Wallace Hersey, 434 Main; B. A. Bennett, 254 Union; Henry L. Bates, 223 Pond; Henry K. Loud, 563 Pleasant; Mrs. Charles Hawes, 752 Pleasant. On Wednesday evening with David N. Crawford, 25 Tower avenue; Mrs. Mary Cady, 58 West; F. Wilbur Loud, 148 Union; A. G. Flowers, 1030 Main, and Joseph Morrison, 100 Oak.

Suicide by Shooting.

Greatly depressed over the loss of his wife three years ago, Samuel A. Doble ended his life in his little cobbler's shop at 3 Pond Street on Tuesday.

Amos M. Sprague, a storekeeper on Main street, having missed his friend Doble since Monday, started an investigation. After unlocking the door to the little shop he entered and found Doble lying dead on a couch, a revolver nearby, and a bullet through his heart. Sprague then sent for Officer Ford and Medical Examiner Fraser, who pronounced it a suicide.

On the couch beside Doble the following note was found:

"From Samuel A. Doble. I am going to meet my wife. I hope sometime to meet you all. I do not care to live any longer here. Please let the town bury me and take my property." Doble had been married three times. He had no children.
